GOODBYE and GOOD LUCK!

Everyone has a different idea of what a yearbook is. To some, it's a book full of pictures with a lot of writing and to some it marks the end of another school year. But when we are no longer in school, it opens the door to our high school memories.

That's why, in September 1989, we wanted to create a book everyone would be a part of.

We were challenged to hurdle several obstacles throughout the year. Whatever the situation. Whether it was good or bad, we dealt with it and used it as a learning experience.

Thank you to the LUHS Administration and faculty for all your support, especially Mr. Castle who always offered me wise pieces of advice. Also thanks to the 1990 Warrior Staff. Thank you Tiffany Bolman for all the corndogs and ham and cheese sandwich runs.

Good Luck to the Graduating class of 1990 and best of success to the student body of Lebanon Union High School

Jill Elliott, co-editor

I can't believe it's finally over! Things pass you by so quickly nowadays that you can't begin to realize how much times are changing until they really have changed. By that time, all you can do is stare in amazement as to how easily people can pick up and move on with their lives with out even blinking.

There are so many stages a person can go through in their high school years. It's scary not knowing who you want to be or whether or not you will fit in, so you change your personality as often as you change your clothes until you finally find one that fits in with what you believe to be is your true self.

Friends and society play such a big role in the changes we make and who we end up to be. It seems that there is that one or two people who put up with all the changes and share the same morals and ideals as you. Those people are always there, through the good times and the bad, to pick you up when your feeling down, to help you with the big and little decisions, and you know that you'd be there for them also.

So change is a big part of your high school years, learn to deal with it gracefully and enjoy a successful four years. Choose not to accept it and prepare to deal with many regrets.

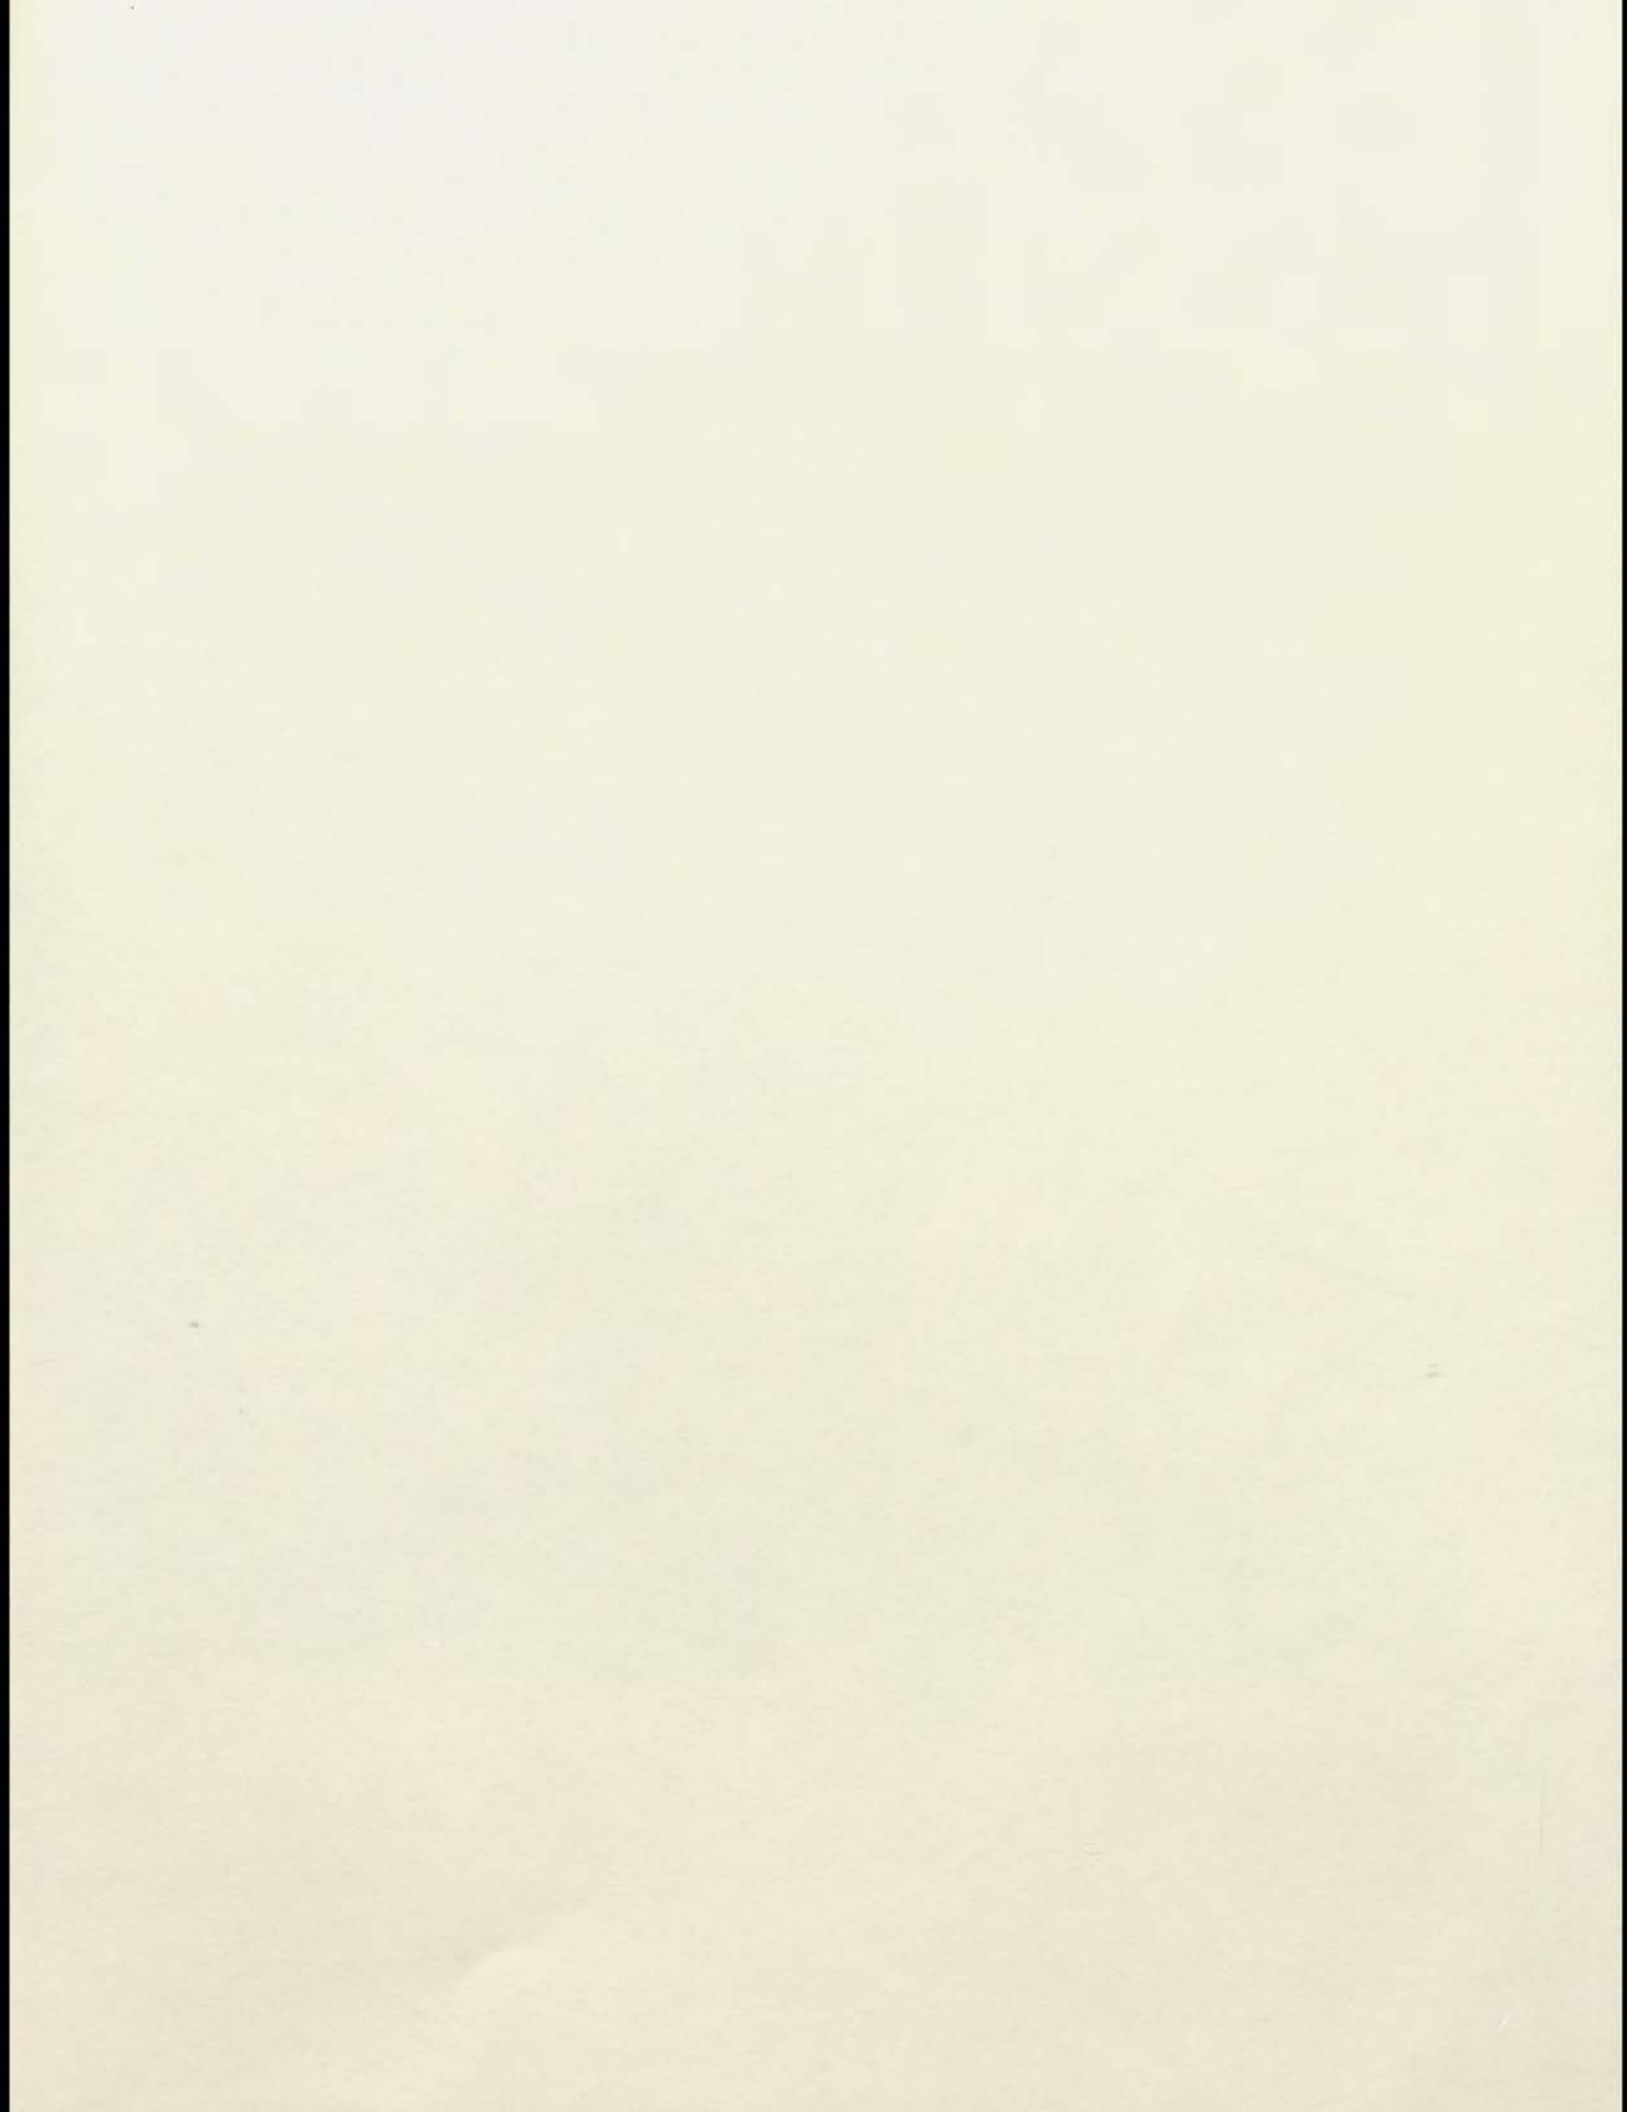

sincerely,
Steve Woods
(co-editor, Mookie)

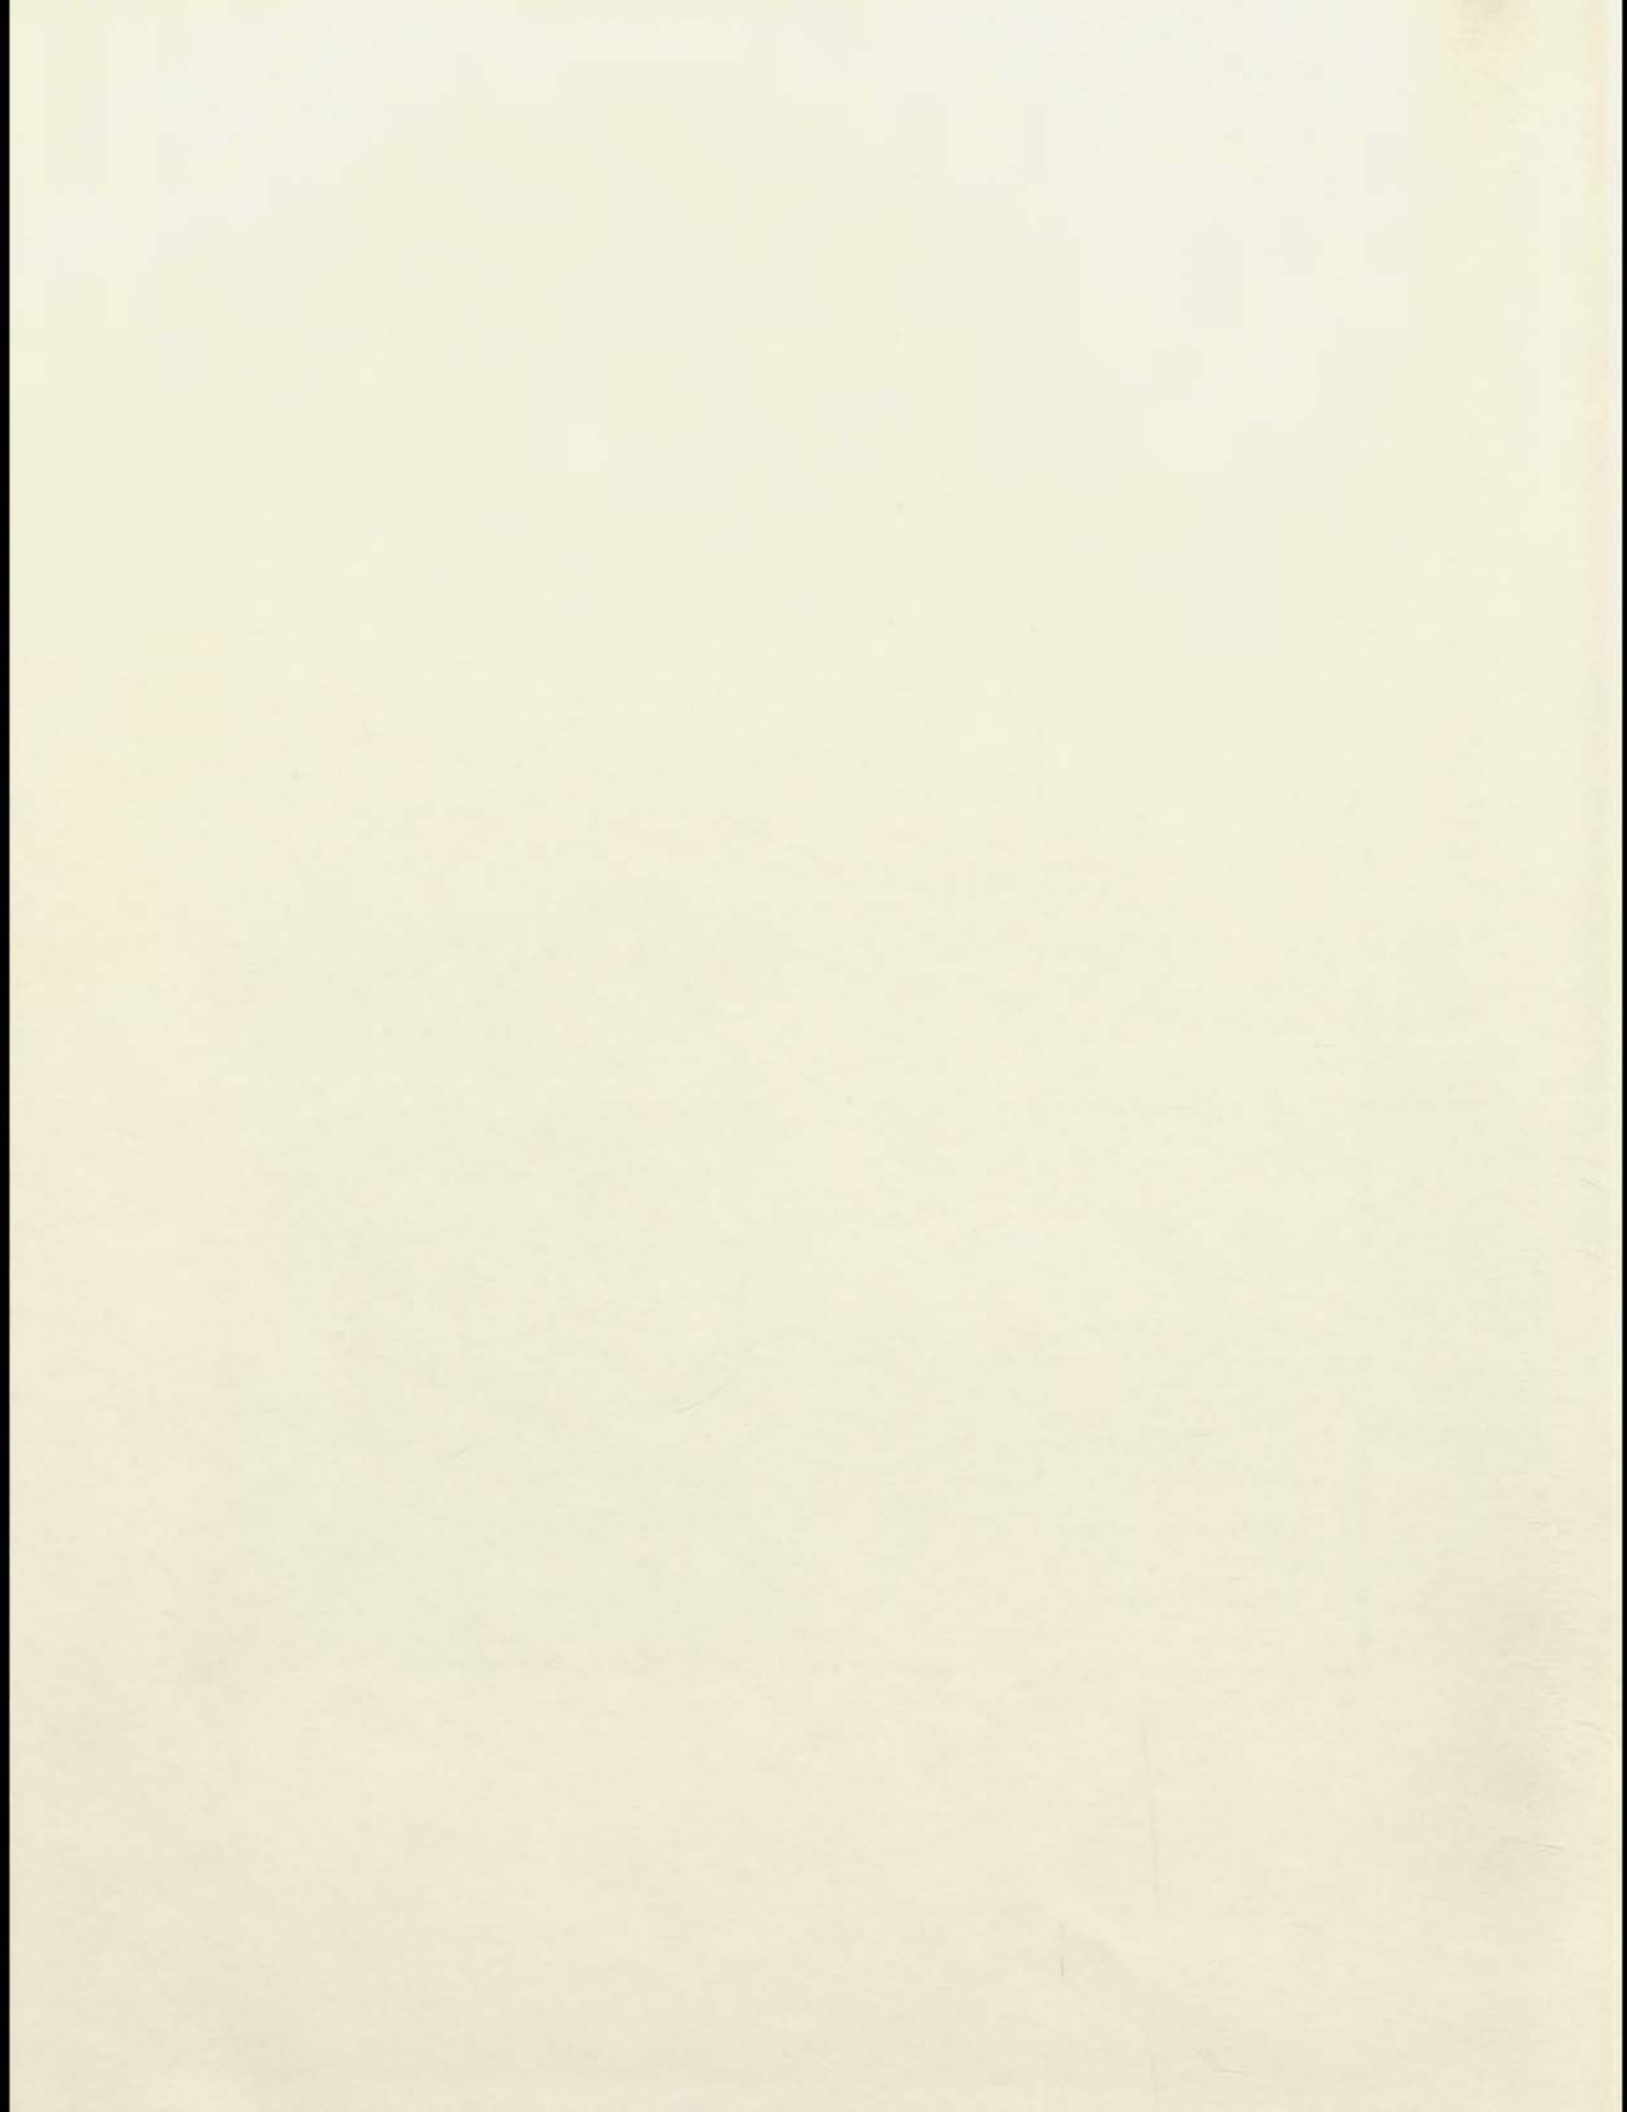

SEE YA!...Graduates Steve Woods, Randy Goodman, and Jim Lutton celebrate after completing four tough years at LUHS. "This year was the most exciting because we could do basically what we wanted to do and I had the great privelege of helping to create the Dead Barracuda Society," commented Lutton.

Special thanks; R.G.(Buggin' Out), Kirsten, Jimmy(Slut), Sabby D. Bear, Burly N. Ratt.

PARANOID

about LUHS

Warrior Paranoia, an extreme sensation of superior authority is a condition that students at LUHS have been inflicted with.

It all began on September fifth. The parking lot filled, the main doors opened and the tardy bell rang. Every Warrior at LUHS was ready to jump into the excitement of a new year.

From the spirited cries of the crowd at athletic events to the hard work and dedication of the Spirit Club, it was evident that Warrior Paranoia was running wild in 1990 at Lebanon Union High School.

Paranoia is defined by the American Heritage Dictionary as; a nondegenerative, limited, usually chronic psychosis characterized by delusions of persecution or grandeur strenuously defended by the afflicted with aplogic and reason.

One who is paranoid may show an exaggerated sense of his importance. At Lebanon however, our sense of importance or domination is not exaggerated. Most students at LUHS have been inflicted by Warrior Paranoia!

QUITTIN' TIME...

Mrs. Phillips eagerly gathers her belongings after a long day at school. Teachers were just as anxious for the dismissal bell as students.

TAKES TWO TO TANGO...Senior Mandy Cole enjoys a dance with teacher Ed Cinquini at the Winter Dance. This was the first year that the Winter Dance was semi-formal.

EYE OF APPROVAL...Principal Richard Reiling oversees the students at the fall football pep assembly. This was the first outdoor pep assembly that the students have had an opportunity to attend at LUHS.

WINTER WONDERLAND... Freshman Kendra Eveleigh prepares a snowball to throw at a friend. School was let out early one day and cancelled for another two due to the snow.

FIRE!... Mrs. Knapp and senior Brandy Acres find time to make light of the situation during a fire drill. A record number of false fire alarms were sounded during the first semester.

THREE STOOGES... Seniors Shawn Gorley, Ron Vorderstrasse and Matt Hudson take a break from their dates at the Winter Dance. Michelle Mattson, senior, was crowned queen later that evening.

LET LOVE RULE... Seniors Alisa Whitelaw and Jennifer Rapoza show their excitement after receiving Valentines from their loved ones. The front office was flooded with balloons and flowers for the students on Valentine's Day.

IN THE SPOTLIGHT... Senior Tony Koker answers questions from a KEZI news man following his signing of a letter of intent to play football for the University of Oregon. Assisting Tony were Coach Don Tomlin (standing) and father Marlan (sitting).

WE'VE GOT SPIRIT... LUHS students take time out from their Friday afternoon classes to attend the Homecoming pep assembly held in Heath Stadium. Senior Michelle Brink was crowned queen during halftime at the football game against Crescent Valley.

FLASH THOSE PEARLIES... Senior Marcy Murry flashes a big smile on Valentines Day as she holds a large bouquet of red and pink carnations. Murry also was a Winter Dance princess.

THE NOSE ALWAYS KNOWS... Coach Don Tomlin tells his Warrior football players he smells another Valley League Championship. Lebanon closed out the 80's with it's seventh Valley League title.

Activities

From after game dances, spirit week, plays, athletic events, ASB elections to senior skip day, LUHS Activities played the most important role in forming Warrior Paranoia.

Warrior activities involved everyone. From freshmen to seniors, every student at LUHS participated.

"The highlight of the year was being a princess on the Winter Dance court. Everyone involved spent a lot of time making it a memorable evening.!" stated senior Marcy Murry.

No matter what interest a student had there was always an activity at LUHS for students to in involved in.

GETTIN'BUSY...Seniors Chad Toomey and Tom Chohan take the last corner during the tricycle races during Homecoming Spirit Week. Chohan and Toomey also played football.

IS YOUR HEAD ON STRAIGHT? Senior Jimmy Lutton wears his clothes backwards for Backwards Day during Spirit Week. Lutton was also involved in Japes.

Homecoming

'A Touch of Class'

As if walking into a dream, Michelle Brink was crowned the new Homecoming Queen of 1989.

"It was such a surprise!" she said, "I had so much fun! I'll never forget it." Queen Michelle was escorted by Randy Goodman.

Another thrill of the night was the Warrior's 30-24 overtime victory over the Crescent Valley Raiders. The evening's festivities were marked with balloons, fireworks and the homecoming dance. Other activities included a serpentine through town and a social hour following the game for Warrior alumni.

"I thought Homecoming went really well. It was very organized, thanks to the people who worked really hard to get things done," remarked Leadership adviser Ed Cinquini, who organized the event.

"I thought the Mercedes sports cars that the princesses rode in were really nice and the serpentine went really well," commented senior Karen Willis.

"The dance was lots of fun!" exclaimed sophomore Cyndi Newport.

ROYAL PRINCESSES

WE'VE GOT SPIRIT

Seniors Jimmy Lutton and Aaron Garber lead the student section with pride. The fans' contribution played a big role in the Warrior success.

OOOH YEAH!

Senior buddies Ian Gardner and Tom Chohan simply state the facts. There seemed to be no question in anyone's mind that our Warriors were going to 'Rip the Raiders.'

HAIL THE QUEEN

Queen Michelle takes her spot out in front of the court immediately following coronation. "Geez, I can't wait to tell my kids about this someday!" she exclaimed.

HOT ACT TO FOLLOW

Senior Amy French demonstrates her baton twirling ability during half time. This was the first year that flames were added to the performance.

CLASHY YET FLASHY

Sophomores Jeremy Stout and Amber Murhee show their spirit on Clash Day. It was the second most popular day behind Class Color Day.

Winter Dance

'Tis the Season'

The Winter Dance, no longer the traditional Winter Formal, brought about a change. Citing greater participation as the No. 1 goal, the Winter Dance committee waived the past requirement of wearing formal attire. Although most people chose to wear semi-formal clothing, there were still some who couldn't break the tradition and preferred to dress formally.

The Winter Dance was held on Saturday, Dec. 16, in the Lebanon Middle School Cafeteria. About 200 couples attended the event.

"It turned out to be a real success," replied senior Matt Hudson, winter dance committee chairman. "We had help from a lot of people. Mr. Castle helped get everything organized and kept things going."

The theme, 'Tis the Season' was set to decorations of snowflakes and balloons. The colors for the dance were red, green, and silver. Christmas cookies and punch were served.

"Everyone looked like they were having a good time," explained senior Amy French, decorations chairperson. "I'd like to thank all those who helped make everything go smoothly."

At 10 p.m. the presentation of the court and coronation took place. Cleora Wymore paced the floor as each of the princesses waited with anticipation to see who would become Queen. "And the 1989 Winter Dance Queen is....."

Michelle Mattson!"

As tears rolled down her face, Michelle exclaimed, "It's great! I'm glad I've had the chance to be on the court and become queen."

In response to Michelle's crowning, her escort Paul Jensen commented, "I'm very proud to be part of such a memorable moment."

"It was a great honor to be asked by the senior class to crown the queen," said Mrs. Wymore. It was her first year crowning the queen.

The rest of the court included Princess Pam Cartwright, escort Billy Wells; Princess Marcy Murry, escort Jeff Garber; Princess Jodi Plinski, escort Matt Hudson; Princess Jennifer Roosa, escort Brian Garrison; Princess Amanda Stone, escort John Snyder; and Princess Karen Willis, escort Chad Chase.

"I thought the seniors were a super group to work with. They were very organized and had fun getting things done. They did a great job!" stated Dean Castle, winter dance committee supervisor.

PRIM AND PROPER

Sophomores Holly Hollingsworth, Jason Armstrong, Troy Gabler, and freshman Adele Clibborn show us how lovely they look in their formal wear. One could see an array of styles and colors that emphasized the mood of the night.

LOOK AT US!

Students take a break from dancing to socialize. Being with friends made the evening extra enjoyable.

CONGRATULATIONS!

SAY CHEESE!

Juniors Diane Silva and Jason Sommer sneak in a picture on their way to the dance floor. Endless pictures were taken for an evening filled with memories.

ROYALTY REIGNS

The 1990 Winter Dance court includes (from top) Amanda Stone, Jodi Plinski, Marcy Murry, Michelle Mattson, Pam Cartwright, Jennifer Roosa, and Karen Willis.

Fall Play

'Charley's Aunt'

"Charley's Aunt," the LUHS fall play, overcame the chicken pox and went on to be one of the best plays the school has ever put on.

It was delayed a few weeks because Glen Weatherly, as Lord Fancourt Babberly, had chicken pox.

Some of the students were thankful for the sickness. "It was appreciated that Glen got chicken pox because it gave us more time to learn our lines," explained Sean Oeder as Stephen Spettigue.

The classic play written by Brendon Thomas was about two college gents, Jarrod Haarstad as Jack Chesney and Steffen Schulz-Key as Charles Wykeham, who are trying to get their sweethearts to come to Jack's room.

Charles comes up with a good plan. He gets a telegraph saying that his rich aunt, Donna Lucia, played by Brandi Shearer, is coming to visit him for the first time. So he and Jack decide to invite the girls, Kitty Verdun and Amy Spettigue, played by Michelle Brink and Cathy Walker, over for lunch using Donna Lucia as an excuse.

They run into trouble when Charley's aunt sends another telegraph saying she will be delayed a few days.

Lord Fancourt Babberly is going to be acting out the part of an old lady in some amateur theatricals, puts on his costume to show his friends. He is then transformed to Donna Lucia, from Brazil, "where the nuts come from."

Jack suggests to his father, Sir Francis, played by Chris Spence, to marry Donna Lucia.

At first Sir Francis doesn't like the idea because of her looks, but he changes his mind because of her money. However Stephen Spettigue has the same idea.

After a lot of chasing their sweethearts, the real Donna Lucia shows up with Ela Delahay played by Brooke Bingaman, "the sweetest little girl" Babberly had ever seen.

Babberly gets sick of being an old lady. Thus, while everyone is at the Spettigue's house the truth comes out and he shows his real self.

In the end there are four happy couples. Charles and Amy, Jack and Kitty, Lord Fancourt Babberly and Ela Delahay, and Sir Francis Chesney and the real Donna Lucia, who as it turned out were old sweethearts.

GOOD JOB GUYS!!!

LIGHTS, CAMERA, ACTION

Charley, Lord Fancourt Babberly, and Jack discuss their never ending problems. Little did they know that everything would work out in the end.

FINISHING TOUCHES

Freshman Shauna Adkins and 'Friend' diligently work on painting part of the set. The set required just as much hard work and dedication as the acting did.

LOVE IS IN THE AIR

Kitty (Michelle Brink) and Amy (Cathy Walker) are greeted by their future husbands Jack (Jarrod Haarstad) and Charles (Steffen Schulz-Key). The girls were anticipating the arrival of Charley's Aunt.

School Spirit

'Full of Good Times'

MONKEY BUSINESS

Senior cheerleaders Mandy Cole and Karen Willis comfort freshman Jason Robertson as he gets a taste of a few bananas. Like any other tradition, freshmen initiation will prevail.

LET'S HEAR IT LEBANON HIGH!

Students show their enthusiasm at the first outdoor pep assembly. The sunshine seemed to bring out the school spirit in everyone.

NEED A SHAVE?

Freshman Kristen Lidgren reassures fellow classmate Tim Jensen that there's nothing to be worried about. Class competitions were a major part of the spirit rallies.

An LUHS sports event wouldn't have been the same without the support of a pep assembly. The fired up spirit of the students and players at a spirit rally before a football or basketball game got everyone set for another win.

To start the 1989-90 school year with true Warrior enthusiasm, the first home football game spirit rally got under way. But, due to the over-spirited upperclassmen, spirit rallies were banned until further notice. The blame was primarily put on the seniors for getting carried away with throwing water balloons at the freshmen.

"I didn't think it was fair when they didn't let us have spirit rallies after the first one. We weren't being mean to the freshmen, we were just being spirited!" explained junior Malea Gentry.

After demonstrating that the student body was able to meet the criteria for the homecoming pep assembly, the rallies resumed at the start of basketball season.

"To get everyone in the gym and go wild is something I've never seen before. Back home in Australia school spirit is non-existent," commented senior exchange student Jason Thompson.

A school dance usually followed most of the home games. Bringing music and good times together, many students gathered for these social events.

"The dances are a lot of fun, but I think they should play more rap music," stated freshman Brandy Hessman.

Instead of hiring a D.J. for the music, this was the first year that the school had its own sound system.

Activities following the dances included hanging out at Shari's Restaurant, cruising the town, or renting a few good movies to watch with friends.

All in all, Fridays were filled with plenty of fun and excitement!

ROCK ROCK - NEVER STOP

Students show us their moves at one of the many after game dances. Music was played to fit everyone's taste.

HOPE WE DON'T GET CAUGHT

Juniors Liz Ahearn and Julie Moore are caught in the act of disposing a few rolls of toilet paper. The common practice of TP'ing after hours was well known to many LUHS students.

BUST A MOVE

Junior Phillip Howard pleads for a dance with Junior Kirsten Simmons. "She doesn't know what she's missing," commented Howard.

IT'S FINISHED
 After six months of planning and re-modeling, the Bud Page Activity Center shows off its new colors. It was ready in time for the start of the new school year.

IN MEMORY OF....

Senior Alisa Whitelaw and sophomore Joey Belcher focus in on the trophy case featuring 40 years of Bud Page memorabilia. Along with the bronze relief bust, the trophy case gave a new look to the inside of the building.

'He Touched Our Lives'

Extensive plans to honor a long-time former Lebanon Union High School educator and principal have been completed.

More than $6,000 was needed to fulfill organizers' dreams dedicating an outside wall, an inside wall and a trophy case at Lebanon High, estimated John Stolsig, chair of the committee to memorialize L.F. "Bud" Page, teacher, coach and principal at LUHS.

Page, who passed away last November, spent 40 years as an educator at LUHS. He started as a business teacher in 1940. Three years later he started coaching. His fields included football, basketball and baseball. In 1953 until he retired in 1980, Page was principal of Lebanon High.

The committee had asked the high school board of directors to rename the LUHS gym and auditorium the "Bud Page Activity Center."

The outside east wall of the gym was repainted. The background color is white. In the middle of the wall the Lebanon High mascot, the Warrior, is repainted in a blue outline color. Red and blue color bands are painted along the top of the wall and down both sides. Three quartz lights are affixed at the top of the 100' wide by 25' high outside wall. The middle light shines down on the Warrior mural.

Across the top of the wall is an 18" "lifetime" metal lettering which reads: Bud Page Activity Center.

On the inside of the building, the "half wall" between the gym and the auditorium is redone in oak paneling 21' wide 6' high. A 3' by 3' bronze relief bust of Bud Page is put on the wall. Wooden lettering around the bust says the following: He Touched Our Lives, Bud Page, 40 Years Serving Our Community, 1940-1980.

The final segment is a trophy case on the south side of the above-mentioned inside wall. The case contains pictures of Bud Page at 10-year intervals, with some written history about him at each stage.

This Bud Page memorial was funded only through private money. School officials then deposited the funds in a special bank account that had been set up for the memorial.

The District UH-1 school board approved the plans.

When Page came to Lebanon High in 1940 there were 465 students in six grades. The school was located at what is now the Lebanon Middle School. The school's population more than doubled by the time he left.

Page accepted the Lebanon teaching position after graduating from Oregon State University in business, world history and P.E.

He started coaching in 1943. In 10 years, his teams won five district basketball titles. In 1946, the Lebanon football, basketball and baseball teams all won district titles. The basketball team placed fourth in state. That same year he was named coach of the Shrine All-Star baseball team. Page was a member of the Presbyterian Church, Lebanon Elks Lodge, Lebanon Masonic Lodge, the Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity, and the Santiam Fish and Game Association.

Royalty Court

'Better Late Than Never'

Royalty Court, basketball's homecoming, was almost a lost memory in one of our best seasons yet. Due to snow and school cancellations, spirit week was cut short and the assembly for the court didn't take place until a later date.

"I think that the whole thing should be more organized in the future, even if we miss school. Those of us on the court were worried that the assembly was going to be skipped altogether," commented junior princess Diane Silva.

A dance was held for the court Friday night, March 2. The assembly finally took place the following Monday, just before the first playoff basketball game. Seniors Annette Boring and Matt Hudson were crowned the reigning Queen and King in front of the student body. Another highlight was the cheers being led by a group of senior guys dressed up as cheerleaders, bringing a bit of comedy to the assembly.

"I was really glad to have been chosen Queen. Being on the court with the guys made it extra fun. It was neat to have the assembly right before playoffs because everyone was so excited and spirited," replied Queen

Spring Play

'Company of Wayward Saints'

The art of Commedia del' Arte was enlisted to perform LUHS Drama Clubs presentation "A Company of Wayward Saints."

"A Company of Wayward Saints" is about a company of actors who employ the old art form of Commedia del' Arte. This is when the actors use an outlined plot but rely on improvisation for the final outcome of the play. The actors play the same part at each performance. They also participate in various acrobatics and stunts.

The play employed the talents of Sean Oeder as Harlequin, the leader of the company and Cynthia Williams as Columbine, his wife. Scapina, played by Kevin Shanafelt was the acrobat. Capitano was played by Chris Spence. The lovers, Tristano and Isabella, were played by Steffen Schulz-Key and Brandy Seibert respectively.

Pantelone was played by Jerami Marshall and Dottore was played by Rich Hasson.

Ruffiana, that "tart" was played by Karen Willis.

Performances were May fourth, fifth and sixth of May.

The play was directed by Debbie Edwards who was assisted by Kami Bynum. Edwards commented, "The kids did a good job of working together to produce a quality product-just like the characters they played. The people who went seemed to enjoy themselves.

TIME TO RELAX

Debbie Edwards takes a break from her hectic play schedule to visit with her children and actor Chris Spence. Edwards has been directing plays here at LUHS for four years.

PRACTICE MAKES PERFECT

Members of the cast diligently rehearse in preparation for opening night. The student body was able to preview parts of the play during their Language Arts classes.

"ON GARDE!"

Chris Spence (Capitano) and Sean Oeder (Harlequin) settle their differences the old fashion way, while Karen Willis (Ruffiana) and Cynthia Williams (Columbine) look on. This was one of the many duels throughout the play.

"HELP!"

Backstage helper Christy Franklin assists Karen Willis with her costume before the play. Volunteers that helped out with the play were greatly appreciated.

ARE YOU DONE YET?

Actor Steffen Schulz-Key (The Lover) patiently waits while being made up. Make-up always took a considerable amount of time before the play.

TIME TO SHINE

Make-up volunteer Sarah Widrig applies make-up to Sean Oeder. Make-up and costumes are always an essential part to any play.

Jr - Sr Prom

'Hold On To The Night'

"Hold On to The Night," the theme of the 1990 Junior/Senior Prom proved to be a memorable night for all who attended.

The prom was held in the Lebanon Elks ballroom and was filled with decorations holding to the theme. Waterfalls and greenery were placed below the stage. To fill the wall around the ballroom favors resembling half moons with dangling stars were arranged.

At 10:00 p.m., the coronation began with the presentation of the court. After the presentation, Brandi Shearer and Princess Cathy Walder sang a duet to "You Take My Breath Away."

Finally the big moment came as 1989 Queen, Treva Willard, crowned Kathy Becker as 1990 Prom Queen.

"It really hasn't sunk in yet," Kathy stated, "It truly is an honor, and I will remember this night forever!"

When asked about the prom and the honor his date received, Randy Goodman commented, "As this being my first prom, I had a wonderful evening, and I was very honored to have Queen Kathy as my date."

Then Queen Kathy with her escort Randy, followed by the other six princesses and their escorts, proceeded to dance a very special "Queens Dance" to "Hold onto the Night," by Richard Marx.

All throughout the evening, song dedications were made and photos were taken by Wilken's Photography.

WHAT A BLAST!

Seniors Michelle Leyva and Karen Glasgow along with their dates enjoy each other's company. Many couples doubled with friends to make the evening more memorable.

A SPECIAL MEMORY

1989 Queen Treva Willard prepares to crown newly chosen Queen Kathy Becker. Queen Kathy will return next year to crown the 1991 Prom Queen.

WHAT A PERFORMANCE!

Junior Brandi Shearer and Princess Cathy Walker treat the audience with a duet, "You Take My Breath Away." The entertainment was presented just before crowning Queen Kathy Becker.

LOOKING SHARP

MAYFEST

'Protest'

"WHAT A DAY!"

Principal Richard Reiling is frustrated over the situation at hand. Mr. Reiling along with the rest of the administration, were brought out of meetings to deal with the student uprising.

During morning break on May 3, 1990, about 600 LUHS students took part in a sit-in at the student center to protest the cancellation of Mayfest.

"Due to the lack of participation in the last three years, we decided to cancel Mayfest," stated Principal Richard Reiling.

The peaceful demonstration quickly turned into a riot as students filled the front yard and parking lot of the school.

Participants refused to attend class until a decision was made by the administration to bring back Mayfest.

At least $750 worth of damage was done to student center tables and tree limbs outside the school. Students climbed into trees, on top of the roof, and on top of a school bus that they stopped on the street. The bus was not damaged.

After a while the police came to calm the crowd. Mr. Reiling let students out for an early lunch, breaking up the protest. Most students returned to class.

Reiling later met with a student committee comprised of Kim Hildebrandt, Jackie Widman, Liz Ahearn, Lonnie James, Dusty Holler and Joe McKinney in hopes of solving the situation.

It was finally decided that there was not enough time or money to have Mayfest this year, but plans would be made to have one in 1991.

'WE WON'T GO!'

Students pack the student center to protest the cancellation of Mayfest. One could hear "Mayfest" being chanted continuously.

BRING IT ON

Students rally outside the school cutting into class time. The police were brought in to keep the demonstration from getting violent.

GETTING OUT OF HAND

A school bus is disrupted by a group of students. Even though the bus was pounded and climbed on, it was not damaged.

CAMPING OUT

'Outdoor School '90'

A week of resource lessons, cleaning cabins, duties, and campfire is what High School students and 6th graders experienced during their stay at Outdoor School.

Lebanon Middle School had four fun filled days at Camp Kilawon through the days of May 8-12. Seven Oak Middle School arrived at Camp Tamarack on May 13 and returned home on May 18.

Each day proved to be very busy. Strict time schedules were followed every day just to ensure that every activity would be completed by days end.

The main purpose of Outdoor School was to bring about an awareness about the environment around us and what we can do to save it. This was done through resource lessons which included: Land, Water, Forest, and Sensory Awareness/Human Influence.

There were also many recreational activities such as archery, tie dye, newspaper, and blow art that the 6th graders took part in.

After a busy day, there was always campfire to calm everyone down. This was a special time to be together as a group and to share in songs, cabin calls, and skits.

Outdoor School was a time to meet new people, make new friends, and better old friendships.

When the last day finally came around, journals were signed and the traditional tree planting ceremony began. Leather friendship bracelets were given out to everyone as a reminder of all the special times at Outdoor School.

This is an experience that will last a lifetime for both the high school students and the 6th graders.

BULLS EYE

CHOW TIME

FUN AND GAMES

Kids gather together to play with the earth ball on Field day. Field day was a special event that took place on the last evening during recreation time.

FESTIVAL TIME

Blossoming Into The '90's

The 81st annual Strawberry Festival was under way as Queen Michelle Mattson proclaimed the 1990 Strawberry Festival officially open after the queen's coronation. 'Blossoming Into The 90's' was this year's theme for the festival.

From May 30 to June 3, Lebanon was filled with festivities pertaining to everyone's taste. Activities included: a carnival, kid's parade, grand parade, Strawberry Jam, fiddling contest, art contest, Strawberry Run, car racing and a horse shoe throwing contest. To keep in line with tradition, the world's largest strawberry shortcake was served to the public after the grand parade.

ONE MOMENT IN TIME

Newly chosen Queen Michelle Mattson cries tears of joy as she is crowned by 1989 Queen Kari Rose and Miss Congeniality Katrina Phillips. "I had no idea that I was going to win," Michelle said. "I was very surprised. It will be a moment I'll never forget!"

BACCALAUREATE

'Never Forgetting Tradition'

BACCALAUREATE:

A farewell address in the form of a sermon delivered to the graduating class in most U.S. colleges and Universities and in some high schools. (Definition from The American Heritage Dictionary)

This year's baccalaureate was presented to the soon-to-be graduated seniors on June 3, 1990 at 7:30 p.m. in the LUHS Auditorium.

Seniors came dressed in their caps and gowns to listen to the message presented by Pastor Ed Wallace of the Lebanon Church of Nazarene. He spoke of the bright new future of the seniors and the many challenges they were about to come upon. Other guests present were Pastor Glen Boring from the Lebanon Evangelical Church who welcomed everyone and did an invocation. Songs which included "America the Beautiful" and "O God Our Help in Ages Past" were led by Pastor Dave Jensen of the Sodaville Evangelical

SENIOR PARTY

'Sunset Beach'

After graduation...when spirits are high and the thought of finally being out of school is a reality. There was no better way to celebrate than spending time with friends at the senior party.

From 9 p.m. to 5 a.m., following the graduation ceremony, seniors were invited to the American Legion for a fun filled night of dancing, black jack, eating, and many other activities. From 2-4 a.m., school buses transported students to their choice of either bowling, roller skating, or open gym. Added attractions included a singing machine, picture taking, a cartoon artist, and free T-shirts holding to the theme of Sunset Beach. The Legion was beautifully decorated with metallic palm trees, sea life animals, and red and blue balloons.

Throughout the party, names were drawn for a variety of small prizes ranging from key chains to sweatshirts. The money that was won in the casino was traded in for raffle tickets that went toward more prizes. After a breakfast of pancakes and eggs, the grand prizes were drawn. Students were able to choose from such items as microwaves, stereos, mountain bikes, irons, and luggage.

The party ended with everyone saying their good-byes, knowing that it was the last time that the class of 1990 would be together as a group.

GROOVIN' TO THE BEAT

Seniors jam to the music in their tropical island setting. Music videos for the songs that were played during the dance were shown on a large screen T.V. for further entertainment.

PARANOID

Sports

WARRIOR PARANOIA was also evident in sports throughout all seasons this year. Lebanon took three Valley League titles, including two of the three major sports, football and basketball. The Girls Cross Country title wraps up the Warriors domination of the Valley League in 1989-90. The hard work and determination that all the Warrior competitors showed all year long is just one more reason for WARRIOR PARANOIA.

TEAM OF THE 00'S

Warriors capture seventh league title this decade!

The Lebanon Warriors had a rewarding, yet dissappointing season with a 7-2 season. Although they shared the Valley League title, they suffered a loss in the first round playoffs to David Douglas, 23-0.

The defense had another fine year led by senior linebacker Tony Koker who was named defensive player of the year. Coach Don Tomlin also praised the efforts of defensive tackle Tom Chohan and cornerback Brian Garrison for giving 100% every game.

The offense was led by tight end Tony Koker and halfback Matt Hudson. Tomlin appreciated Chad Toomey's efforts by being the leader on the offensive line. He held his spot at center. The strength of the offensive line was Jim Williams ability to explode off the line and create holes for the runningbacks to run through.

The big surprises were the play of Brian Garrison and Thad Duke. However Tomlin was also pleased with Paul Brewer at offensive tackle. "Paul was going through rough times in his family life, but still managed to keep a positive attitude and did an excellent job on the line," applauded Tomlin.

Next year the Warriors will be big and should be able to have a steady ground game. "I had to play 100% every game to achieve my goals. As a team we had to come together on defense and get the key victories," ended junior Jason Brown.

HEADS!... Starting quarterback, Fred Phillips, throws over the opponent as Chad Toomey tackles and prevents the block. Phillips received Honorable mention in the Valley League for his outstanding efforts as quarterback.

OUCH!... Junior Joe McKinney, injured earlier in the game, watches his teammates. Many injuries set back the potential of several players this year.

ALMOST PERFECT

Frosh end season with an 8-1 record

JV's show dedication in tough season

Have you ever thought about the time spent and the dedication that is put into a sport? Well the JV football team not only thought about it, they proved it. They proved it by going to every practice afterschool, they also spent many of their lunch periods watching films so they could see how to improve their games.

The team felt their hard work had paid off, ending the seson with a record of 6-3.

"They fought as a team and they believed in themselves," commented head coach Mike Gray.

Even though they got off to a bad start, losing the season opener at Sprague 8-14, they came back strong the next week defeating McKay 22-0.

Sophomore Troy Gabler stated, "When we played together, we played well."

Five times during the season, the Warriors reached deep inside themselves and pulled out that extra something that is needed to push from behind and charge ahead.

Coach Terry Deacon summed it all up when he said, "This is a group of scholar athletes to watch as they make their mark in the Valley League over the next three years."

"The frosh football players exemplified the qualities of champions this year. They blended teamwork, character, great attitude and hard work into an outstanding eight win, and one loss season, stated Coach Deacon.

"Practices were hard, but the conditioning really paid off in the games," commented freshman Tommy Sommer.

SPIRIT BOARDS

Varsity promotes spirit all season

JV shows outstanding effort

The varsity cheerleading squad was full of excitement in cheering the Warriors on. They possessed an intensity all year around that brought enthusiasm to the crowd.

The squad was made up of four seniors; co-captain Rhonda McKinney, Karen Willis, Mandy Cole, and Heidi Shurts, three juniors; captain Jennifer Belcher, Wendy Spiker, and Jana Davis, and two sophomores; Amber Murrhee and Tina Williams.

"This year we accomplished a lot together as a team. Everybody worked hard and came to practice with positive attitudes instead of bickering at each other," commented sophomore Amber Murrhee.

During the summer, the cheerleaders attended many camps. One of those camps was at Western Oregon State College. The WOSC camp stressed how to become a better cheerleader and to perform with unity as a team.

The squad also held a cheerleading camp at LUHS, on Sept. 16 for girls who were between the ages of 5 and 12.

Participants of the camp also were able to cheer during the first quarter of the game against South Albany.

"They learned to become better cheerleaders by working together as a team, instead of one individual trying to do everything by herself," said second year adviser Connie Jahns. Jahns was assisted by her husband Tim, and Cindy Williams.

The JV squad showed tremendous potential this year, as they cheered their way through the football season. They had a young group, with their captain Michelle Freitas, and co-captain Amy Pomeroy both being freshmen. "It was hard at first for me to try to lead them when it was my first year cheering myself," said Freitas, "But once we got it, we really got it!"

Although they were dominated by the freshmen, the upperclassmen of the squad felt that the talent of this season far over exceeded that of last years'. "The squad was really young this year, but it was super fun and a good experience for all of us," said junior Julie Macauley.

All of the girls are looking forward to next year and hopefully making the Varsity squad. We should expect to see many underclassmen at the Varsity level next year.

HERE WE GO!...Carrie Gay, Kelly Morford, Amy Pomeroy, and Brandi Branton hug as they get ready to sell programs. Mr. Allen can't help laughing at their foolishness.

IS... The Varsity cheerleaders pump up the students with the ever popular "IS" cheer. This was the students' favorite yell during games and pep assemblies.

GET DOWN!

Walker loses warm-ups in pre-game

Have you ever had an awful nightmare, that you were warming up for a sport, the time came to play, and you removed a little more than your sweats in front of a crowd of people? Well, this nightmare became a reality for junior starter Jerri Walker.

"The funniest thing that happened this season? That would have to be when we were ready to start our match, and we all took off our warm-ups, only Jerri showed a little extra skin for a split second," laughed team leader Vikki Sweet. "With a laugh of embarrassment, she recovered her uniform without too much commotion!"

The varsity squad had a terrific year not only with their record, but with their attitude toward each other as well. They got along and communicated better than the previous teams, and basically just had a great time.

Some of their major achievements included their successful day at the Putnam Invitational. They split with Milwaukie and Gladstone, and beat Cleveland to finish second in their pool. They then beat Beaverton and finally lost to ninth ranked Pendleton, to capture fifth place out of 16 teams.

During the course of the season, Sweet became the leading hitter, and Walker, the leading server. "If someone remembers Jerri for any one thing, it would be her serving," said Coach Speth, who also stated, "Vikki is becoming an all league player." Sweet was recognized as first team all-league, and represented the hard work and intensity the varsity had this year.

JUMP... Junior Vikki Sweet smashes the ball to her opponent. Sweet received many honors such as 1st Team All-League and Most Inspirational player.

UP AND OVER... Senior Jennifer Roosa tips and just barely misses clearing the net. Roosa was the primary setter and has played volleyball all four year of her high school career.

IT'S YOURS!... Jerri Walker screams a warning to Vikki Sweet, that the ball is loose. Sweet barely nicks it with her forearm as both bite the dust. Sweet and Walker were consistent starters for the Varsity team.

PUMP-IT-UP... Coach Speth gets his team pumped up during a time-out. The girls played tough ending the season at 6-12.

SMOOTH... Senior Amy French makes a great pass to her teammates. This was French's third year playing varsity and she was team captain.

STUFF THEM

Girls stuff their way to victory

Frosh have succesful first season

"I've been coaching JV for three years now, and I can honestly say, that this is the first group of girls who played as a team," said Coach Carolyn Vandiver.

They had the attitude of varsity players and the ability to match.

"We got along so well, and that really helps, because you can't play, and play well if everyone is griping at each other," said junior Kimberli Hildebrandt.

"I was really sad when the season came to an end. We had so much fun," said junior Diane Silva who was voted Most Inspirational player. Other awards included Most Valuable player, Stephanie Watkins, Most Improved, Beka Rood, and Best Hustle, April Miller.

The Freshman proved to be very spirited, hard workers and they had the Warrior attitude of never quitting, even when things got tough.

"They were a terrific team who showed a lot of support for one another," said Coach Marty Mundy.

They had a pretty successful season winning 12 and losing six of their games.

"I liked working with all my friends and meeting new people. I liked competing between other schools," said freshman Trisch Miner.

Their efforts pushed them toward the top of the league, and gave them the confidence to excel next year on JV.

CONCENTRATION... Rhonda Henderson, Julie McDougal, Coach Mundy and Kim Anderson, eagerly await the final stuff to victory. This was Mundy's third year coaching volleyball.

REACHING HIGH... Junior Diane Silva and sophomore Beka Rood attempt to block their opponents. Silva received most inspirational player, and Rood was voted most improved.

GOT IT!... Sophomore Candice Robertson passes the ball to setter April Miller, so she can sky it up to slammer Beka Rood. The girls worked together better this year than most teams in the past.

BACK TO BACK

Women win second straight district meet

Men run their way to fifth in district

The women's cross country team pounded the dirt to their second consecutive district title. Their hard work, dedication, and love for running once again paid off, and made this yet another successful and rewarding season. However, like last year a few hindrances set them back and forced them to work twice as hard. One of these hindrances was Diann Miller's pulled ligament in her knee.

"I think the girls did awesome. I only wish I would have been able to help them more," said Miller. She was unable to compete in the state meet, but with the help of Donna Dorgan, Liz Ahearn, and Amy Propst, the girls finished sixth in state. Dorgan finished 23rd, Ahearn 25th and Propst 36th.

"Our team seems to be getting better every year! Now all we need is to keep everyone running together. Last year it was Donna, this year Diann. Maybe next year everyone will be able to compete," said Ahearn.

"This years Men's Cross Country team really came together in districts by exceeding to their full potential," stated coach Dannen.

Placing fifth at the Valley League District 8AAA meet at Corvallis, the team felt their hard work had paid off.

Senior Les Duncan led the Warriors with the fastest time of the year--a 7:12 for 5,000 meters at Bush Park in Salem.

"This year the team was really spirited," said Duncan. "Our singing on the bus was comparable to the noise at a varsity basketball game; and when our girls won at district we were even louder than the crowds at the varsity basketball games." "The season was a good experience and will help us to improve for next year," said junior Kaigin Olafson.

In addition to Duncan, consistent runners for the Warriors were Derek Dunmyer and Tony Fuller.

ON THE RUN...Derek Dunmyer, junior, gets off to a good start, striving for a first place finish. This was Dunmyer's second year on the Men's Cross Country team.

KICKING UP AAS

Women look to reach their potential

The Women's Varsity soccer team competed hard, but once again fell short in the Valley League race, finishing with a 1-7-4 record.

"Our success should be measured more by our great efforts and outstanding winning attitude than by the win-loss record itself," commented Coach Kris Walton.

The Warriors were led this year with outstanding plays by juniors Kelly Osborne and Amy Landis, sophomore Tonya Boyd, and Seniors Lori Wheeler and Cari Yocom.

"I had so much fun this year, even though we missed the playoffs. It was a good experience for my senior year," said Wheeler.

The girls had a competitive and fun season and are looking forward to next year.

The Men's Varsity soccer team had a thrilling season. Although they only won one game, it was the first in three years.

"We worked as a team and believed we could do it!" exclaimed Matt Little.

The Warriors hard work and hustle finally paid off. Many people may have had their doubts, but the players kept their confidence.

Coach Quigley said, "There was a lot of growth during the season," which was proven by their first win.

Whether rain or shine, the Warriors were at practice every day after school.

This year's JV soccer team was a new addition to our athletic program. Lebanon hasn't had enough players interested in soccer in the past years to have a junior varsity team. This year however, the Warriors had an unusually large turnout.

The team was coached by Chad Grieve, an LUHS graduate who was a four-year letterman for the Warrior soccer team.

"With this being Lebanon's first JV team in a long time, they did an outstanding job. I couldn't have asked for more from them because they gave 110% every game that we played. They should be very proud of themselves," commented Coach Grieve.

The squad won their first game defeating Corvallis 2-1, however they finished the season with a 1-3 record overall.

HAND IN THE

Warriors take first league title in 39 years

It had been 39 years since the Warriors won a Valley League title, but this year was different. Lebanon was fortunate enough to have two outstanding Australian transfer students in 6'8 Leigh Wadeson and 6'6 Jason Thompson. The Warriors also returned 6'6, All-League selection Tony Koker. With the addition of South Albany transfer Zac Metzger and defensive specialist Paul Jensen, the Warriors captured the league title and went on to finish as high as eighth in the state poll.

Second year head coach Mark Tichenor commented, "Our system was a structured fast break. We wanted our shooters to shoot, our dunkers to dunk and our rebounders to rebound- roles have to be defined, we know we'd score points." And score points the Warriors did. They had back-to-back 101point games against South Salem and South Albany.

The squad would then cruise to an 18-5 overall record, the Valley League title, and a birth directly into the "Glass Palace" and the OSAA Boys Basketball State Tournament.

As the All-League selections came out, two very deserving names were apparently absent from the list, Leigh Wadeson and Jason Thompson. The answer to this mystery came later in interviews with the Valley League coaches(who vote on the team members). The coaches said that kids who, they felt, were ineligible to play, should not then be on the All-Star teams.

The team quickly put this issue to rest and began concentrating on more important things, the State tournament. "We don't want them to go to state tight, thinking they have to win it all to be successful." The Warriors defeated No. 1 ranked Beaverton in consolation for the Warriors first ever win at Memorial Coliseum.

HOT STUFF

JV hoopsters get a taste for Varsity

Lil' Dunkers set the mark for future

This year's JV basketball team had an exceptionally great year. They worked hard, and always seemed to bounce back.

One of the highlights for the Warriors was defeating McKay in overtime 66-65, after losing to the Royal Scots earlier in the season.

Coach Talbott stated, "Out of the three years I've been coaching here, this was the group I enjoyed most, because they got along so well and there were friendships on and off the court."

Overall Talbott was very pleased with his players, and feels their good attitudes helped them respond to losing and turn it into a positive experience.

Junior Glenn Walters commented, "We learned a lot this season and we worked well together."

The JV had an impressive improvement over last year ending the season with a record of 14-8.

Due to the 21 quality players, the Freshmen squad was divided into an A and B team for the first time in years.

"Both teams showed much potential and individual improvement," stated Coach Winters.

The Frosh 13-8 stepped up and earned respect throughout the Valley League. One of the highlights for the Warriors was defeating Sprague 41-40.

"It was a close game all the way, but we pulled through in the end," commented Brad Calahan.

"This year was a great learning experience. I learned that individual gain is not the only way to be a successful basketball player," explained Troy Judy.

State tourney caps Varsity's season

JV covers for Varsity during sell-out game

Cheering at the Memorial Coliseum was a highlight experienced by the Varsity cheerleaders not to be easily topped in the near future.

"It was a good experience cheering in front of all those people. It made us feel important," said sophomore Tina Williams.

The season was filled with the thrill and excitement of cheering for a team that made things happen. It wasn't hard to get fans pumped up, as the men won game after game.

"We all had fun, and worked really well together. We'll miss this year's seniors," stated junior Jana Davis, next year's basketball co-captain.

In JV action, the thrill was almost as exciting. They were often called on to help the Varsity squad when preparing for State competition. They even cheered their hearts out at the packed, closed-door game against North Salem.

"It was a good experience and I met a lot of people. All in all, it was a lot of fun," said freshman Kris Mandich.

READY? OK!... Amy Pomeroy, Brandi Branton, Kris Mandich, Angie Mc Cormick and Carrie Gay show their stuff during a time-out. They were an energetic group who gave their all to get the crowd pumped up.

GO LEBANON!.. JV rallyers spread enthusiasm throughout the gym. Amy Pomeroy served as the team captain and led the JV throughout the season.

Varsity reaches new heights

Who's that new face sitting on the bench with the women's Varsity basketball team? Well, it's not a new face at all, it's Mr. Cash who has been coaching JV basketball for some time now. This is the first year that Mr. Cash has been the head coach for the women's basketball program, and he's having a ball.

"The 1889-90 basketball season has been a memorable one for me, as it was my first season as the girls' Varsity coach. The girls were a fun, hard working group and were very close to being a very good ball club," stated Coach Jerry Cash.

The girls did have a fairly good season, with their record being 7-20. "Had it not been for illness spreading throughout team after Christmas, I believe we might have made it to the state playoffs," said Coach Cash.

" This being the first year with our new coach, our team showed a lot of new enthusiasm, and as a team, I think we're spreading a lot of spirit to the younger players," stated junior Laura Edwards.

As a team, the girls improved tremendously toward the end of the season. They had near wins over N. Salem and Sprague, which improved their playing on the whole.

" Since this was Mr. Cash's first year coaching girl's Varsity, I thought he handled it very well. We also learned to play together as a team, and forget our differences, and I want to say good luck to all the upcoming and returning players," stated senior Lori Wheeler.

HEADS UP... Senior Cari Yocom shoots the ball over her defender as Laura Edwards waits for a possible rebound. Yocom and Edwards both had an impressive amount of playing time on Varsity.

WE BAD... Kellie Osborne, Kerry Hoene and Medea Pense walk of the court during half-time, like they are the coolest around. All three were consistent scorers throughout the season.

PUTTIN' IT IN... Junior Laura Edwards easily banks a shot over her opponent. This was Edward's third year of Varsity experience.

UP AND IN... Junior Vikki Sweet powers up a shot to score yet another two points for her team. Sweet was an extremely valuable asset to the Varsity program.

SECOND PLACE

JV settles for second in League

SECOND PLACE

Freshman place third in the Valley

For the second year in a row, the woman's J.V. basketball team placed high in the Valley League standings. Not quite reaching the plateau of last years' first place, the girls captured second and were only behind the undefeated Corvallis Spartans.

When the going got tough, these girls stuck to it, and pulled off win after win.

"I can't believe some of our wins. It seemed like we had no hope, and then wham! We were right back up there again!" said freshman Hannah Lucas.

The girls won 11 out of their last 12 games, defeating most teams at least once.

"There were many times the girls gave me several gray hairs and now they're starting to fall out, but I was really proud of them during our last game of the league. They came together, knew they needed to win to place second in the league, and won by one point," stated Coach Dan Jordan.

The girls ended the season with a 16-5 record.

The rookies were more equal in their win-loss record. They finished the season winning twelve out of the twenty games they played.

"This being my first year as the Freshman coach, I think that these girls have the potential to make it all the way to the top when they are seniors," said Coach Marty Mundy.

Mundy stepped down after several years as the head coach and used his experience to bring the freshmen together for a great season.

"I have to admit, I was a little nervous about all the running that everyone said we would be doing, but I thought that he did a good job," laughed Michelle Pinfold.

Hope is in the air for the upcoming freshman. As long as they are in the hands of former Head Coach Marty Mundy, they are in for a terrific season.

FIFTH IN STATE

Santana dominates State at 148

The search for the third District title in a row was not achieved, but placing an amazing fifth in state capped off an outstanding season.

There were ten District placers, and of those ten, seven of them competed at the State tournament. Those seven were Jeff Abernathy at 155, Luna Kyly at 123, Jeremy Rhodes at 130, Shawn Gourley at 136, Chomo Santana at 148, Fred Phillips at 148 and Jim Williams at 191.

"Doctors said that I wouldn't be able to wrestle until April, but he said it was my choice," stated Chomo Santana. He made the right choice, he captured the State Championship at 148. "It was the greatest moment in wrestling for me and I hope to accomplish the same feat next year," commented Santana.

"I was very pleased with Jim Williams at State, he was one match away from placing and helped the team score," boasted Coach Jim Phillips.

Other state placers were Luna Kyly with fourth place, Jeremy Rhoades with fourth place and Fred Phillips with sixth place.

"Next year we will be very tough with all of the returning State placers and a young team moving up," admitted Coach Phillips.

THRILL OF VICTORY... Junior Chomo Santana prepares to shoot during the State Championships. Santana captured the State title in the 148 lb. class.

AGAINST THE BEST...Senior Shawn Gourley tries to out-manuever Babbick Mohamidi, the reigning State Champion at 136. Gourley was a three year letterman and a two year District placer.

A DECADE OF EXCELLENCE...Coach Jim Phillips demonstrates a wrestling maneuver on freshman Derek Devlin. Coach Phillips has been head coach for 10 very successful years.

ON TOP... Junior Luna Kyly applies a head and arm during his match. Kyly was very consistent and wrestled his way to fourth place in state.

DOWN FOR THE COUNT...Junior Fred Phillips dominates his opponent on his way to victory. Phillips had tremendous improvement this year, and looks to be a strong point for the Warriors next year.

NOVICE CHAMPIONS

Seven wrestlers capture individual titles

The J.V. wrestling team capped off the season by taking the Novice District title at South Albany. They captured seven individual titles on their way to becoming novice champs.

They had an outstanding season with an overall record of 14-6 and a perfect 9-0 in league action.

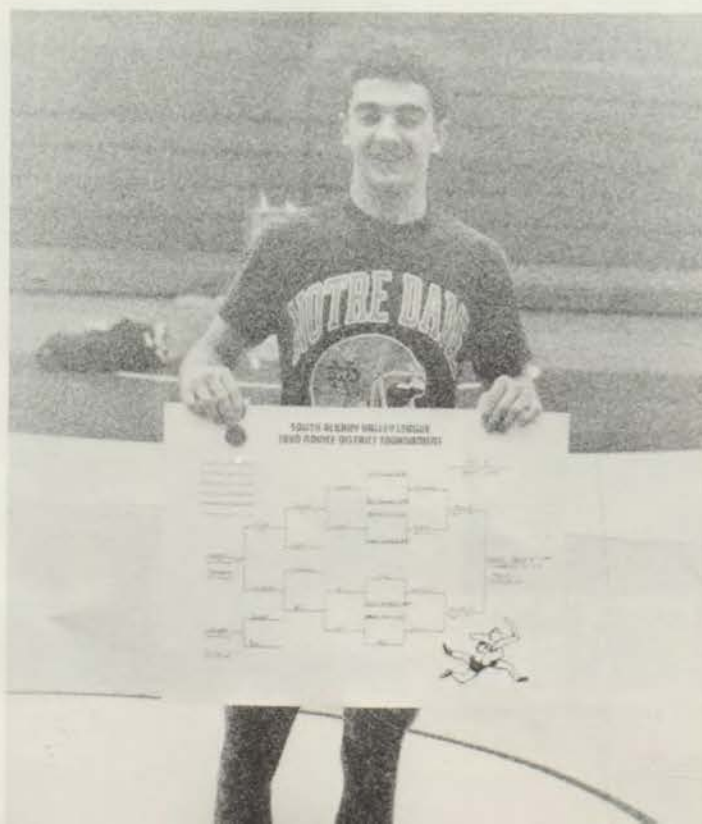

The seven individuals who took titles were junior Carrie Vandetta, freshman Derek Devlin, sophomore Robert Houdek, senior Bill Laswell, sophomore Brad Meyers, freshman Ryan Noss and freshman Judd Pratt.

The most consistent wrestlers were Jason Cota with a 10-0 record, and Kyle Odegard with a 14-1 record.

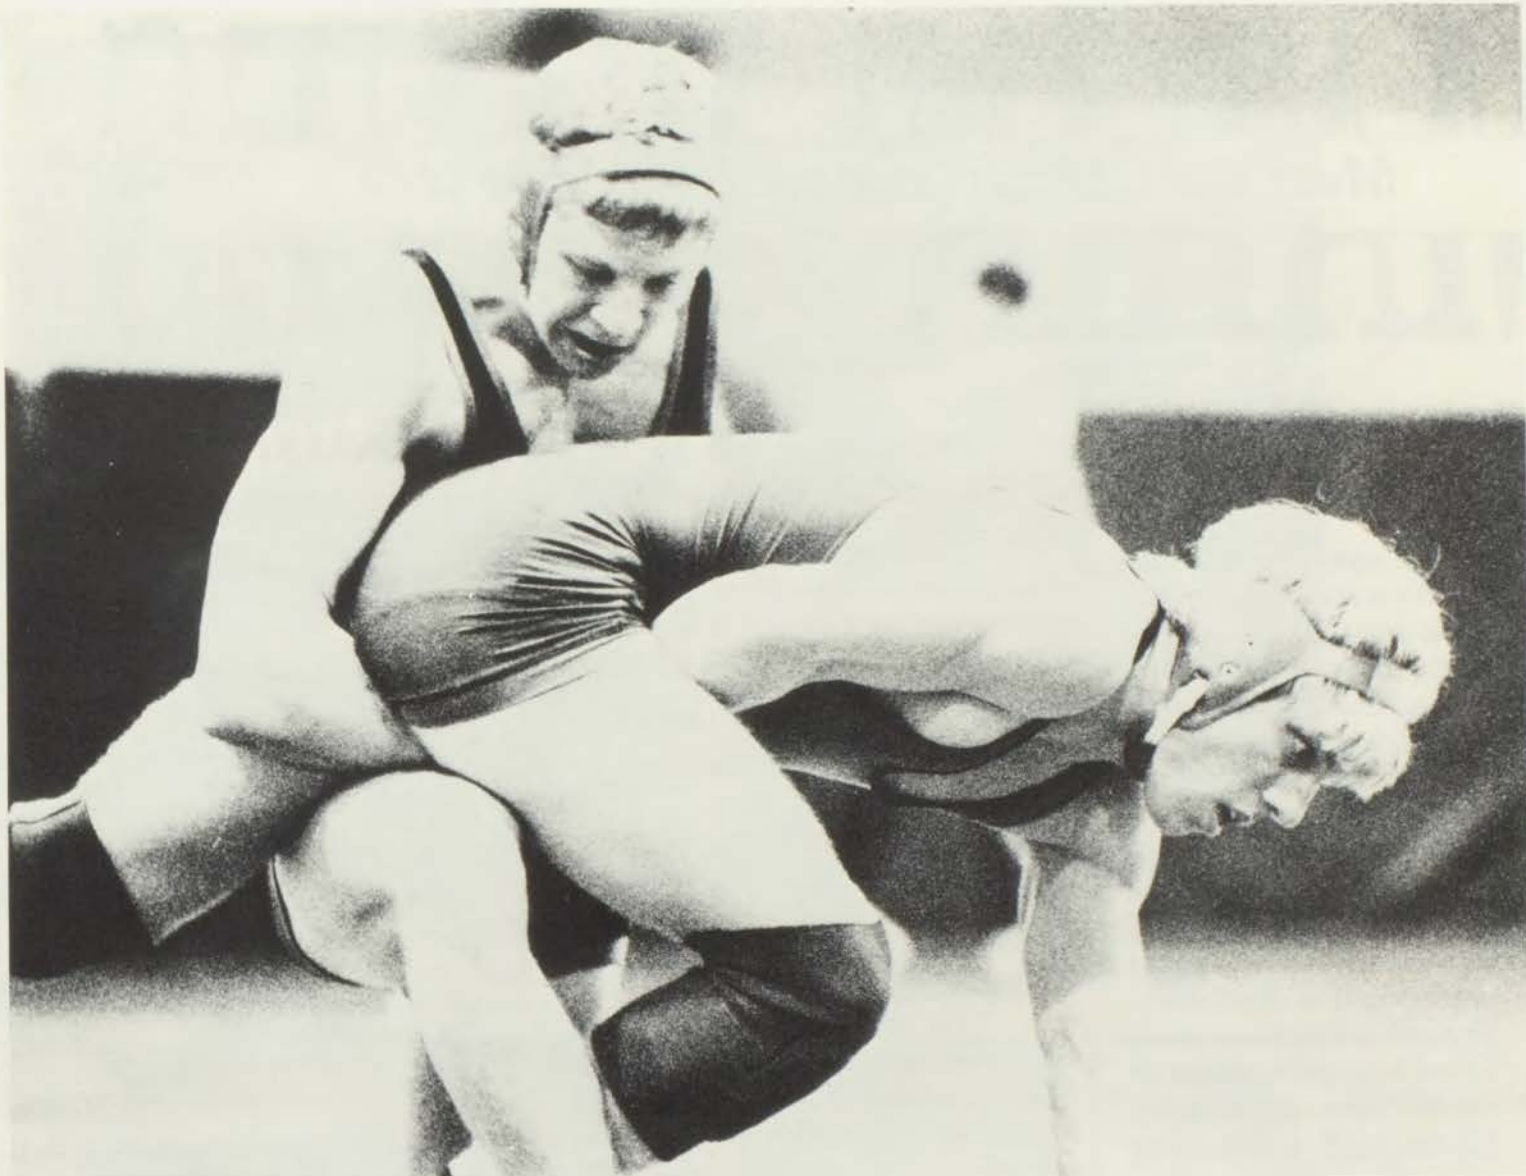

"They were a hard working group of kids who would never give up. I'm looking forward to another winning season," commented coach Ken Clark.

YOU'RE THE BEST... Sophomore Carrie Vandetta boasts his 1st place bracket from the novice meet. Vandetta had an outstanding year, and looks to be much more improved next year.

HANG IN THERE...Junior Jason Brown puts up a fight during his wrestling match. Brown was a very consistent wrestler all year around.

STAND YOUR GROUND...Sonny Somonian tangles with his opponent during his match. Somonian who was only a freshman had an excellent year and showed much improvement.

MAKING WAVES

Men splash up second in districts

Women paddle to a strong finish

Determination was the key word for the swimming team. Their tremendous efforts carried the men all the way to second in Districts and a 7-3 record over all. The women ended the season with a steady 4-6 record.

Although they were off to a late start because of pool repairs, the Warriors made up for lost time. Several swimmers were forced to practice either at Sweet Home or in Albany, but the hard work paid off as several records were broken and re-broken. Among these record breakers were, Matt Little in the 100 meter butterfly, and the 500 free-style, both of which he broke twice.

"His best event is the 100 fly. He did well for being young and for not swimming year round," remarked Coach Jan Nadig.

Others were, Alisa Whitelaw in the 100 back, and the men's 200 medley relay, which consisted of, Paul Johnson, Dan Hathaway, Matt Little and Chris Wilson.

"Even though we got off to a late start, we worked hard and pulled through in the end," commented junior Chris Wilson.

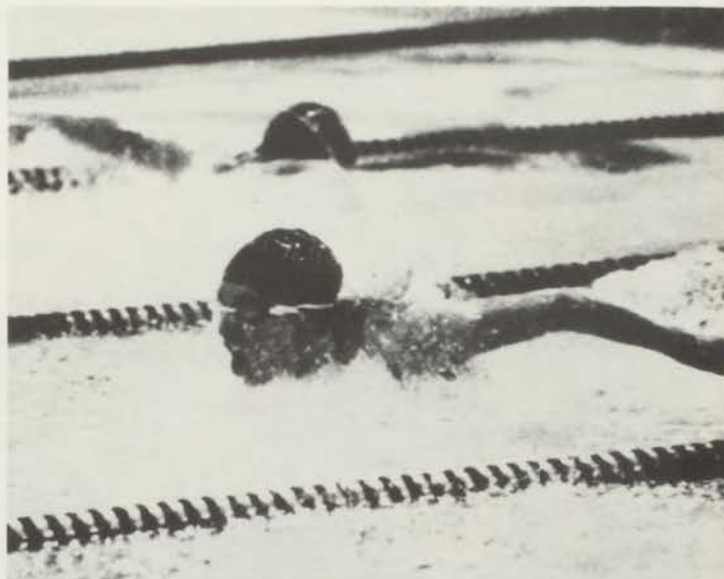

The highlight of the season was that the first two teams that the men lost to, they beat in Districts. There was a finalist in every event except for the backstroke.

The women, however, were disappointed to find that they had just missed fourth place by one point.

"I thought we swam really well, but I wish we could have grabbed that extra point. Oh well!" said senior Alisa Whitelaw.

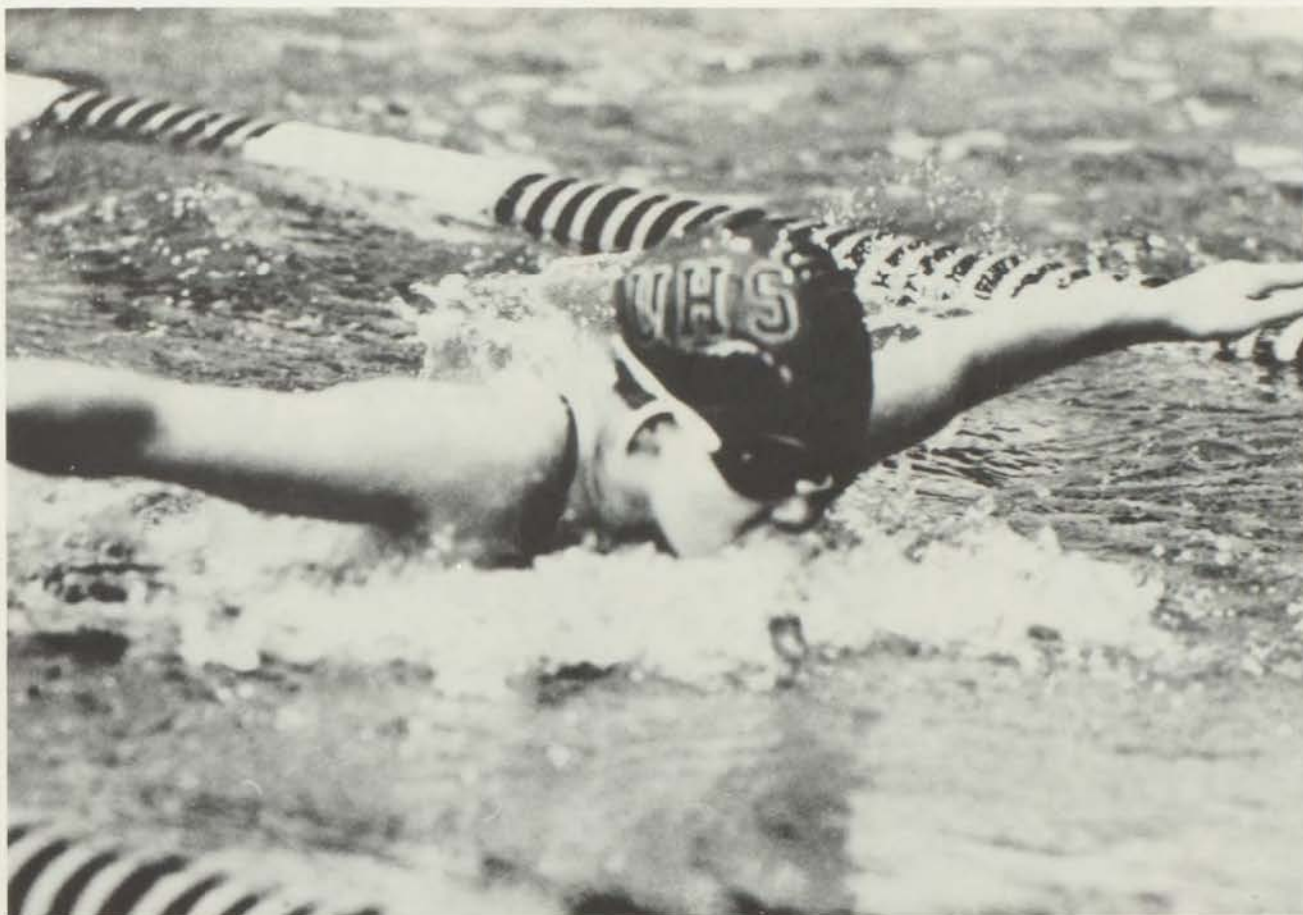

Most valuable swimmers were Matt Little, and Candace Robertson. "Both boys and girls were strong in all four strokes and that was our main strength," ended Coach Nadig.

DIVIN' RIGHT IN... Sophomore Dan Hathaway gets off to a good start in the 200 medley relay. Hathaway was a strong swimmer and helped lead the relay team to many excellent finishes.

FLYIN' BY...Senior Brehk Kieft strokes his way to the finish in the butterfly. This was Kieft's fourth year on the swim team.

SWIM IT UP... Sophomore Candace Robertson glides through the water hoping to better her team's standings. Robertson was voted most valuable swimmer.

Men send Dannen off to state

On the men's side of the track, there were many who contributed tremendously to the program. Some of these boys include, Chris Holler, Brice Thorp, Josh Bjornsted, and John Williams. However, "All of these kids have a lot of potential," stated Coach Castle. "We set a goal, of combining the girls and boys scores together, to see where we stand. We have not been beaten by these standards for five years in a row."

"Forest Williams will be our number one long jumper, and maybe even the best hurdler," said Coach Gould.

The future is looking good for the men and women tracksters in everything from weights to long distance running. Their success is in the palms of their hands.

GRRRRRR!... Sophomore Aaron Shurts guts it out to the end as he runs neck and neck with his South Albany opponent. Shurts will help the team out a lot next year.

PACE IT... Junior Derek Dunmyer paces himself as he works to get ahead. Dunmyer was a strong competitor in the long distance events.

BUST IT... Junior Melvin gets lost in the crowd as he looks for a passing opportunity. The distance competitors were very successful this season.

CLEARING IT... Dennis Roe arches for that extra inch needed to clear the bar. Roe was a strong all-around jumper for the team.

STATE BOUND

Women place third at District meet

To sum up the 1990 track team would be to say that they were successful. The women competed extremely hard to make up for the injuries that resulted in loss of points.

Vikki Sweet and Diann Miller were both out for the season which slightly hampered their success.

"The girls definitely would have been stronger without injuries," commented Coach Rick Gould, "I couldn't have been more happy. They worked really hard."

Only graduating one senior, they should be able to place high next year.

"With all of the girls that went out, I think they did a good job pulling themselves together, and working together as a team," said senior Amy Propst.

Toward the weight division of track, Coach Dean Castle felt that they were very successful for being so young.

"The average age was freshman plus, but this means strong returning athletes for next year," commented Coach Castle.

The girls ended the season placing third in district, with Laura Edwards, Kathy Flände, and Liz Ahearn going on to state.

STRIDING RIGHT...Senior Amy French rounds the corner for her big finish, with Jennifer Funk taking up the slack. Both girls had a very successful season.

WORK IT... Freshman Emily Lyon practices her form in the discus. The weight people all contributed greatly to the team.

SAIL IT... Kristi Richardson whirls around as she sails the discus out during competition. Richardson improved throughout the entire season.

TO THE FINISH... State qualifier Liz Ahearn looks off as the crowd cheers her to the end. Ahearn, along with four other girls went to state this year.

HURDLE THAT HURDLE!... Junior Laura Edwards pulls ahead to place first yet again at an away meet. Edwards was a repeating performer at the state meet.

LEAGUE PLAY

New but familiar blood patrols Croco Field

One of the goals for the Varsity Baseball team was to make it to the state play-offs. Unfortunately, this goal was not accomplished. The disappointment was that they missed the league play-offs by two games.

The team ended the season with an overall record of 10-14 and a league record of 8-10.

"We were a very aggressive baseball team who worked hard all season long. They developed a winning attitude and gained confidence," explained Coach Steele.

This was Bill Steele's first year coaching varsity baseball, and the highlight of the season for him was just watching the young men develop into good baseball players.

Senior Matt Hudson stated, "The season wasn't quite as successful as we wanted it to be, but we all had a lot of fun."

The outlook for the team is promising, considering next year's team will have many strong juniors and seniors.

"The season was really fun, and I wish I could play with the guys next year!" exclaimed senior Ronnie Vorderstrasse.

The awards given out were Most Valuable Player, Bryan D'Alessio, Merit Award and Hustle Award, Matt Hudson, and the Sportsmanship Award, Glenn Walters.

HUDDLE UP... Coach Steele takes a time-out to talk to pitcher Jimmy Lutton and catcher Matt Hudson. Hudson received 1st Team All-League and Lutton received 2nd Team All-League.

FASTER THAN A SPEEDING BULLET... Junior Bryan D'Alessio winds up for a fast pitch. D'Alessio was a very consistent pitcher for the team.

BATTER UP... Sophomore Joey Belcher sprints to first after another base hit. This was Belcher's first year on varsity.

The freshmen had an excellent season ending up 12-7 overall, and winning six games in league, and look to be a force next year.

They rode the arm of Brad Calahan, and the bat of Brian Thompson.

"Pitching in high school was so much different from middle school. I had to work so much harder," commented freshman Brad Calahan. Look for good things in the future from this group of kids.

The J.V team had a very successful year, although their record did not show it. The team improved tremendously toward the end of the year.

"I had a lot of fun this year playing with all my friends, 'cause next year not everybody will make Varsity," stated sophomore Zane Sheets.

Sophomore Kyle Odegard was the most outstanding hitter on the team, and led the team in almost every category.

TOUGH THROW...Sophomore Shawn Murphy fields a slow roller from third base, and throws him out. Shawn was very positive during the whole season and gave 100%.

OFF IN THE DISTANCE...First year Coach Tom Rappe looks on as his team plays a tough opponent.

THREE MUSKATEERS...Juniors Kim Hildebrandt, Brandi Anderson, and Cara Steele run to the dug-out after a quick three outs. The varsity team ended their season with a league record of 4-14.

This year's softball team got off on a slow start, but ended the season with an overall record of 5-21.

"We were a young ball club that played very well at times. The season was like a roller coaster ride—a lot of ups and downs, emotionally and skillwise," commented Coach Steele.

The highlight of the season for the team was winning three games in a row, and defeating 14th ranked Sprague.

"It felt great to beat Sprague, they didn't think we could pull it off," stated junior Brandi Anderson.

Looking ahead, for next year Steele said, "The girls need to improve their hitting skills, and keep working hard."

Senior Lori Wheeler, summed up the season when she commented, "We didn't win as many games as we wanted to, but it was fun."

NEW BLOOD

Mr. Cash tries his hand at softball

Never having coached softball before may make some people doubt the ability of the coach, but Jerry Cash came out and showed that he could do it. Not knowing much about the game put him in an awkward position, but his team made it through the season with a 12-14 record.

"I think it was just as much of an experience for me being a new player as for Mr. Cash being a new coach," commented junior Donna Dorgan.

Although most of the team was made up of freshman, the strong abilities and the speed of all of the team members contributed to their success. One of the weakest points however, was that their pitching skills were lower than the rest of the teams in the league.

"I think they'll overcome that by playing in the summer, and playing more," commented Coach Cash.

A few of the key players were sophomores Jackie Tol and Mandi McDonough, and freshman Amy Sinclair. Coach Cash also commented that there are going to be quite a few quality players coming up to the Varsity level in the next year or so.

"I think it could have been a little bit better, but I think they had a fun year," said Coach Cash.

OOPSI!...Freshman Rhonda Henderson grimaces as she takes a swing at the ball. Henderson was a strong competitor for the J.V. team.

NET PLAY

Women win first league match in years

Men start fresh and build foundation

This year's men's tennis team was dominated by freshmen who learned a lot about themselves. Next year the team should do very well with the experience they've gained in competing against other opponents.

Freshman Matt Jones took third in the consolation round, and the experience he gained should make him tough for next year.

"Mental toughness is a key part in the game of tennis, and you must keep a high intensity the whole match," stated coach Terry Deacon.

This year's women's tennis team captured their first league match in many years. Junior Diane Silva won the consolation bracket at Districts, and looks to be a force for next year.

"It was really exciting winning our first league match, and we had a lot of fun doing it," boasted junior Wendy Rudolph.

Most of the women will be returning next year, and it should be their best season ever.

KICKIN' BACK...Junior Jackie Widman kicks up her leg during a serve while her partner Heather Jennings waits. Widman and Jennings were partners all season.

SMOOTH...Junior Ivan Hathaway prepares to use his strong forehand during a match. Hathaway was a returning letterman, and was a great player.

PULLING AROUND

Women swing to a fifth place finish

Men falter at District meet

Fun was one of the first words that came to mind when members of the golf team thought about the year.

The women's team was small, but they worked hard and overcame that weakness. They were a young team with a lot of prospects. Two of the most valuable players were Wendy Spiker and Tony Anderson, who shared the title.

"It was fun and all of the girls were really nice, so it was a positive experience," said Wendy Spiker.

The women finished up the season with a strong fifth place finish at districts.

"The girls worked hard and had a fun time," commented Coach Jim Phillips

The men's season wasn't quite as successful as the women's, but they had just as much fun. They finished up with an eighth place finish at districts.

The men's team was led by seniors John Snyder and Steve Woods, and juniors Fred Phillips and Jeremy Rhoades. Other's that contributed to varsity matches were senior Scott Tarrant, and sophomore Jason Armstrong.

"I enjoyed meeting new people and just having fun!" exclaimed Armstrong.

Coach Phillips felt that they were "a really fun, positive group."

COME ON BABY!...Senior John Snyder analyzes his shot. Snyder was voted Most Outstanding Golfer.

SWINGIN'...Sophomore Jason Armstrong swings from the fairway, hoping to land the ball on the green. Armstrong shot in the mid-90's for the Warriors this season.

WHAM... Junior Wendy Spiker grins with confidence at her swing. Spiker was a consistent, excellent golfer all year.

SLOWLY BUT SURELY... Senior Sarah Barnes steadies herself for a putt. This was Barnes' third year on the golf team.

Clubs

This year the Warriors were very active in their clubs. The Honor Society took a trip to the Portland Zoo, while the Forensics were busy with competitions. "Most students (about 45%) take part in some kind of club or club related activity at least once in their high school career." commented Stan Talbott. There are approximately 15 clubs available to join at LUHS. So as you can clearly see, WARRIOR PARANOIA was in full effect in 1990.

FOR THE COMMON GOOD

Senate, House of Representatives, and ASB Officers

"I love working with money, that's why I became treasurer," stated sophomore Carrie Gordon.

Student government officers all had their own reasons for running for their respective offices. They had good reasons for that, they all had many responsibilities. They had to attend meetings, organize Royalty Court, pep assemblies, and Mayfest.

"The best thing that we did was going to workshops to learn to become better leaders," commented Carrie Gordon.

This year's Associated Student Body officers were President Allen Dannen, Vice President Angela Rose, Secretary Debby Brookins, and Treasurer Robert Ciohon. As Vice President one of Angela's many duties was to lead the House of Representatives meetings. Allen was in charge of the ASB meetings and Debby took notes at of the meetings. Robert was in charge of all the finances for the student government.

HAVING FUN

Japes and Electronics Clubs

"Japes!" You may not be familiar with this "up town word", but for the students in our drafting club, it means joking around and Fun, spelled with a capital F.

Their activities this year involved the Regional Skills contest and Pacific Northwest Home Builders Contest. Students from Oregon and Washington participated. Their goal was to design a ranch style house to accommodate the handicapped.

When asked what he liked most about being a member, Jim Lutton commented, "Everyone works really well together and Mr. Hughes is a great teacher and knows what he's doing."

The officers include President Scott Tarrant, Vice President Jim Lutton and Secretary Joyce Weaver.

This year's Electronics Club also had a fun year initiating Mr. Robinson, who proved to be a "cool teacher with a good sense of humor," said Bill Schrader, Vice President.

Mr. Robinson commented that the year went by really well with all the students developing special projects. A few of these projects include designing software with a joystick for handicapped. Also designing a sound level meter system.

Steve Parker added, "The work is exciting and is a challenge, there is something new to learn every day!!"

Officers include President Steve Parker, Vice President Bill Schrader, and Secretary Teekee Kufeld.

Cox helped construct a utility trailer. He was involved in welding for two years.

HIGH MOTIVATION

Woodshop and Welding Clubs

Walking into the woodshop class is loud and dangerous!! Ouch!! "Look Mr. Ray, no finger!"

"No, seriously, Highly active and extremely motivated" is how to describe the Woodshop club, commented Mr. Ray. they have contributed a lot to the school.

Making plaques for the football team Fall, and the Linn-Benton Regional Skills contest, which was held in February are just two of the many projects they have accomplished. Bird feeders were made for a nursing home, and individual projects for teachers here at LUHS.

This hard working club has also had fund raisers, including a wood raffle, and selling their projects in the student store.

This years officers include President Glen Packard, Vice President Bill Laswell, Secretary Mike Lee, and Treasurer Al Trebes. President Packard was satisfied with their accomplishments, adding that they have worked hard with much enthusiasm.

Mr. Ray's ending comment was, "We Build the Best and Repair the Rest." Wouldn't you say this statement speaks for itself!!

The Welding club has been active this year. They attended the Regional Skills Contest and did really well.

Mr. Steele said, We've accomplished alot and everone did their best.

DIFFERENT DESTINATIONS

Close-Up and OSSOM Clubs

Two clubs at LUHS with two very different purposes are the Close-Up and OSSOM clubs.

Lebanon's Close-Up club took students to Washington D.C. where they were able to get a first hand look at the nation's government.

Traveller Cara Miller stated that the trip was well worth the money spent to go.

OSSOM, on the other hand, was at the school to promote drug and alcohol free activities and lifestyles

Club members would go to various feeder schools and talk to the kids about how important it was for them to maintain drug and alcohol free lives.

When asked what the best thing about OSSOM was member Joanne Freeman stated, "When the other students listen to you and they want to become drug-free too."

FUN WITH A PURPOSE

Honor Society and Key Clubs

Personal satisfaction, outstanding initiative, and admirable citizenship—the key to Key club.

Key club is a community service organization sponsored by our local Kiwanis club for all high school students.

Every year they sponsor
two Red Cross blood drives, one at the beginning and end of each school year. Their agenda is always full. They do activities ranging from making Christmas food baskets for the needy to making breakfast for the senior citizens of Lebanon.

Another club that has recognizable characteristics is the National Honor Society.
This is a nationwide organization that recognizes students with a 3.5 GPA or higher. They must show examples of the society's ideals, character, service, leadership, and of course scholarship.

They had a few activities such as their annual induction ceremony and an educational field to the Portland Zoo.

MANY MEMBERS

DECA and Latin Clubs

DECA (Distributive Education Clubs of America) was a club offered for all Marketing students at LUHS, and the Latin Club was a newly formed club for all those students interested at LUHS.

DECA competed in the annual Regional Skills Contest at Linn-Benton Community College. Their awards included: 3rd Place Team Award.

At the annual State conference in Jantzen Beach they did not receive any awards, but as member Karen Glasgow put it "I enjoy the shopping and the free time we have while we were up there."

Founding Fathers

Seniors Duke Shepard and Tom Becker show us another side of the Latin club. The Latin Club was a newly formed club, founded on the basis of Latin awareness.

Latin Club was formed at the end of the year by founders Duke Shepard and Tom Becker. "Our goal was to bring an awareness of the Latin language to our school," stated senior Duke Shepard.

"We were really pleased with the responses we had for the club, by the end of the year we had a membership of 10 people. I hope that next year Gerrod Ramsdell and Amy Landis can continue in the tradition we started," senior Tom Becker said. Ramsdell and Landis are club officers for the 1990-1991 school year.

DECA Members

18 members of DECA pose around the sign they helped donate. DECA boasted a membership of approximately 100 students.

Spirit Club and Amnesty International

Backing their cause was what Spirit Club and Amnesty International clubs were all about.

Spirit Club brought spirit to our sporting events, showing us the pep they had through spirited sports posters and holiday locker favors.

Amy Landis was this year's Spirit club president.

Amnesty International used their letter writing campaigns to help prisoners of conscience. Club president Connie Scharff stated that, "Students are the reformers of the world and this world definitely needs some reforms."

"Amnesty International is an apolitical organization working to end human rights abuses worldwide," Connie went on to say.

To emphasize their point Connie described the situation they were fighting as, "If you were a prisoner who was being tortured simply for being a certain belief that your government held in contempt, wouldn't you want to know that someone cared whether or not you lived or died? That's what Amnesty International is all about."

Is this long enough? Angela Rose finishes up her poster. Angela was a Spirit Club member for three years.

Classes

In Webster's Dictionary its definition for class is. CLASS (KL^ASS ) n. abbr. cl. 1a. A group of students meeting to study the same subject. 2a. High style, or manner. 3a. Social rank or cate, especially high rank.

In the WARRIOR dictionary there's only one definition for class ; The Whole Student Body Of Lebanon Union High School. If you ask any student why their "class" is the best it's usually because they have the most "spirit" supposadly.

But we all know Seniors have the most spirit..... Or do they? according to Stephanie Watkins "Seniors try to hard to be COOL but for Juniors , it comes natural..."

SENIOR SPIRIT

Jim Williams and Ian Gardner show their senior spirit and expertise as they finish first in class competition. Class competition was one of the highlights of the few Spirit Rallies we had.

Since the Class of 1990 were freshmen, they dreamed of the day when they would become the class the others looked up to. In their last year at LUHS they reached a standard that no other class was able to match.

Senior spirit showed up at pep assemblies by consistently being the rowdiest and most vocal of all the classes. "The spirit this year was far beyond that of the previous years, and will not likely be surpassed in the future," boasted senior Jerrod Harstaad.

At football games, seniors were always in the thick of the excitement. It was not unusual to find a few seniors painting their faces red and blue or helping the cheerleaders get the crowd pumped up.

During the first fall pep assembly, five seniors, dressed to kill with nylon masks and painted chests, bombarded the freshman class with water balloons. The administration felt that this display of spirit was uncalled for and cancelled pep assemblies for a few months.

"When we put our hearts into it, that's when we got into trouble," explained Keenan Drummond.

It's 2:55 Friday afternoon, the bell rings. You guessed it, it's the start of the weekend and Lebanon students are ready and willing for some wild night life! But just what do they do? Well.....

They go on dates, they stay out late, they cruise the town, they party down. They camp, they hunt, they fish, they hike, they swim, they golf, they bowl, and bike. They cheer their teams to victory, then dance with their favorite he or she.

They also like to shop and eat, and sometimes just stay home and sleep. But then there's those with work to do, flipping burgers, making pizzas, hauling groceries too! They might sit in the hot tub and stare at the stars, or get in a fight and end up behind bars.

Some tap their legs, others tap kegs. But hey they're young and it's all in good fun. So into the weekend we charge at warp speed. School's finally over, for now we've been freed.

LIFE ON THE JOB

When the commodities of your wallet have diminished, and your monthly allowance isn't enough to support a goldfish, it's time to get a job. Some opt to seek employment at local fast food outlets or other businesses. While some people find other means of income. There are the notorious lunch ticket scalpers who will sell you a discounted lunch ticket. Some clubs, such as the Japes, resort to peddling pasteries. Keenan Drummond took donations which enabled him to fulfill his dream of skiing at Mt. Bachelor.

Custodian Ray Eddy cashed in on the treasures beneath his broom. By the end of the year, he'll have swept in close to $100.

One of the changes at LUHS was this painting of the gym wall and the dedication of the Bud Page Activity Center. This work of art was done by Steve Quigley, men's varsity soccer coach.

CHANGES.....

From the Bud Page memorial to Mr. Shannon's waistline, change at Lebanon High School has been inevitable for the Seniors of 1990.

Time passed quickly since Freshman year when we first walked into high school, scared and not knowing what lie ahead of us, till we ruled the school in our last year as Seniors.

We thought we'd be Freshmen forever but as times changed so did we, growing into mature young adults who would soon leave behind this school and alot of good memories.

Although we will all go our separate ways, we will all remember the good and the bad times we have had as the class of 1990.

LIFE IN THE YEAR 2000

What will the world be like in the 21st century? That is a question that was answered with a lot of energy and enthusiasm by the class of 1990.

One very popular response and it was of course the obvious "The earth will be round." said Doug Greiner.

"Everything in the world will be run by computers like the roads and cars and everything," stated Karyn Hoene.

"More peaceful, our nations will come together and maybe the world a better place economically and environmentally." stated Alisa Whitelaw very optimistically.

Others just took the subtle, but affective, approach. "Mr. Castle would still be teaching," thought Shannon Mcguire. "Robert Ciohan will be president of the United States," Eric Heimbuch predicts, and Lori Wheeler thinks "everything in the world will be different and instead of having a round world like before everything will flatten out and be square."

Hopefully, the future will be a happy place, and not destroyed. With any luck perhaps the world will still be round.

During the four years that the average student attends high school, on the average, he or she goes through about 40 teachers. But somehow one seems to stick in your mind as the one you liked the most. The Warrior Yearbook Staff, took a poll of the Seniors and asked them who their favorite teacher was. Of course it was a hard decision but most narrowed it down to one or two. Both great teachers, Mr. Shannon and Mr Hughes tied for third place in our survey. Mrs. Knapp, without a doubt claimed the number two spot. In the 1990 Seniors opinion it was the ever popular Steve Steele who stuck out among them all.

Maybe it was "his addictive habit" ( tobacco chewing ) quoted Senior Keenan Drummond, that made him so well liked or was it " the time he spends with each individual, in every one of the classes he teaches." remarked Senior Matt Renfro.

When we asked Mr. Steele how he felt to be chosen as favorite teacher, his reply was "PROUD!"

"I think that means they respect me for what I'm trying to do." Mr. Steele obviously likes the students as much as they like him. According to him "this particular bunch of men are hard workers, fun, and good people." "They're a wild and crazy bunch."he replied

Why did the students choose Mr. Steele? According to Matt Renfro it was "for all the extra effort and time he puts into his classes."

Keenan Drummond, on the other hand had a different opinion. He told us, "because the man is a legend in his own air space."

A LICENSE TO DRIVE

C'mon you remember being a freshman and not being able to wait 'till yor 16th birthday so you could go to the DMV and hopefully leave with A LICENSE TO DRIVE. Now, think of being 14, and the agony of waiting was killing you! you could'nt wait to be 15, so you could get your permit.

It was then you started seeing your friends driving the 'ole family car with mom or dad. Possibly you passed eachother on the same country road? This is when you first started realizing that everyone's growing, and your grade school buddies don't seem so little anymore.

Most students say they had their cars before they had their license. What's the point? So you could fix it up for the day you could drive it. (legally anyway).

SO.. you've got your car, you've got your stereo with the bumpin speakers. What's missing? Ah! The passenger seat is empty. Fill it with a friend? EVEN BETTER! Hw 'bout a girl/boy-friend? Now your all set.....seat belt on.....ignition on.....park,reverse,neutral,DRIVE

BYE, BYE!

DRIVE SAFE.

INITIATIONS ARE OUT OF STYLE!

Initiations are going out! The majority of this years freshman class were not initiated. Although there were a few exceptions such as David Phelps who was picked up by six guys and forced to push a penny all the way down freshman hall. He was quoted as saying " It was embarassing but I think that the fact my dad is a teacher didn't help much."

Most freshman think that the initiations are funny to an extent but wouldn't mind if they were dropped all together.

Maybe next year when the new freshman walk in the door they won't have to worry if some big senior is going to come and embarrass them in front of everyone they know.

NUMBER ONE TEACHER

Every student at LUHS has a favorite teacher. For the freshman class, their favorite teacher was Mr. Mausen. When asking Mausen how he felt about being the class of 1993's first choice for favorite teacher he said, "I am very surprised, but flattered. It is a very nice thought. It's difficult to believe that something as nice as this could be the result of so much misery."

Although Mausen was first place in a close second place was Mrs. Walton who told us, "I feel really honored that they would choose me. I think that means they like science and I'm happy about that."

Mausen and Walton are both extremely good teachers and both must have something quite special to be voted first and second place with the class of 1993.

1993 CLASS SUMMARY

This past year most of the freshman described the freshman orientation and dance as fun and exciting. Sherri Aurich and Shawn Parrish both agreed that it helped them get to know their classmates from other schools as well as helping them get to know our school better. It also helped get rid of some of the first day of school jitters.

This year the class officers for the freshman class were Ken Tuttle as President, Shawna Vecht as Vice-President, Jessica Peterson as Secretary, and Sarah Cinquini as Treasurer. The class senators were Troy Judy, Ryan Noss, and Amy Pomeroy.

Also down freshman hall a student set one of the lockers on fire. The majority of the freshman agreed that whoever did this cruel thing was not that smart. Another complaint was the fact that we had to stand out in the cold for a long time waiting, not to mention the smoke and smell, to add to the fact that some students couldn't get to their lockers for quite some time.

Besides the usual walking into the wrong class the first week of school, which was done many times, quite a few freshman experienced very embarrassing moments. For example, while dancing with Shawn Gourley, Sarah Cinquini accidentally kissed Lisa Latimer when Shawn pushed them into each other.

What do you want to be when you grow up? As you know, most people have their minds made up when they enter high school about what they want to be, but by their senior year it changes. It is fun to look at their ideas, now as freshmen. Everyone wants to be something whether its a doctor, a lawyer, or just a waitress , but everyone has has plans for the future, although they might change you still have dreams.

When asking the class of "93" what they want to be when they grow up they gave many different answers. One of the answers was "I want to be a brain surgeon," told Kristi Middlestadt. Then when asking her do you think these plans will change, she gave a very confident "Yes, of course they are going to change."

WHAT DO YOU WANT TO BE WHEN YOU GROW UP ?

Brett Tarrant had his mind made up on what he wanted to be. "I want to be a radiologist, it's possible it will change, but I'm pretty much set on being a radiologist."

"I would like to be a dermatologist, my plans will not change I've wanted to do this for a long time." Amber Weaver said, very sure of herself.

Jennifer Jolley, was pretty sure but had another occupation picked out just incase. Her future was "A business executive, my plans will not change but if they do it will be to something in the travel industry."

Liv Wilson, who was not sure what she wanted to be, had some remote idea of wht she was hoping to be. "I want to go into the field of business, because they make a lot of money!" Now there is the attitude to have. Although everyone is not sure of what the future will hold, or what their plans will turn out like, they all have ideas and dreams not all of them will come true, but some will.

PARANOID

Academics

With one of the finest vocational programs in the state, Lebanon proves the WARRIOR PARANOIA theory once again in Academics. Drafting instructor John Hughes commented, "The kids work really hard, which will usually lead to terrific results." It's not only the vocational areas that were successful in the 1989-90 school year. The Forensics team and a strong showing for everyone at the Regional Skills Contest are proof that WARRIOR PARANOIA lives on in Academics

SPEAKING IN TONGUES...

When the word Language is brought up, what is usually thought about? Of course everyone thinks of English, but how many of you think about foreign languages like Spanish, German and French. Well these classes at LUHS should be thought about quite often considering the lift on life they can give you.

Foreign language classes provide an excellent opportunity for a greater understanding of each country, and the people living there.

Many students take a foreign language class only for an easy credit, but students such as senior Katie Newton, who has taken German all four years of high school, may plan on majoring on this subject throughout college and then it may be a part of her future career.

But the English language is also a very important subject at LUHS. It is the language spoken every day in the halls by the administration, teachers, custodians, cooks, and even by the students. Even though sometimes the words they say couldn't be found in a dictionary for any language.

"Language has got to be one of my funnest classes, I guess because of the silly speeches that we give year after year," said Tommy Summers.

Mr. Githens, who teaches both Spanish and English classes comments, "I like the difference between the two classes, that way my day doesn't get boring." Mr. Githens has taught at LUHS for three years

STORY TIME

Sometimes it's hard to tell if Mrs. Orwicks class is really working, or if she's just telling them a good story.

STANDING WATCH

MARCHING TO THE TOP

Parades, pep Assemblies, concerts and regional tournaments are a few performances that the band program was active in this year.

Although there were six band classes, only four of them performed during concerts. These included Brass, Jazz, Wind Ensemble and Concert Band.

Band groups that students may be more familiar with include Pep band, which plays at pep assemblies, and the Marching band, which obviously plays in the parades.

These two groups were very popular at the football and basketball games. Many times the band got the crowd so pumped up that you couldn't even hear the person next to you because of the noise.

AMUSED

Mr. Barnes is amazed as he sees that everyone is actually playing. Band was a very popular class for lots of people.

STANDING OVATION...

Adventure was the word for this years choir class. Even though Mr. Butler was really disappointed about the few amount of people who got involved in the class, he still thought that they gave a great performance at the joint concert held on March 15.

A few students from this years choir class made audition tapes then sent them to an organizing chairman in Portland inable to enter into a yearly held state competition. The competition was held on Febuary 16, 17, an 18.

The students who were excepted into the state competition were Cathy Walker, Tina Belanger, Heatherly Stankey, Cassie Gorrell, May Freymuth, Christy Franklin and Sara Widrig.

Mr. Butler comments, "I am very proud of Sara Widrig because she is the first freshman to be accepted into the State competition since I've been here."

"I have had so much fun in Choir this year, it was probably one of my funnest classes," said junior Cathy Walker.

LUHS Choir is an excellent class to be involved in, and Mr. Butler feels that next year will even be better, considering the amount of students who have decided to participate.

WHAT SONG DID YOU SAY?

Color Guard is a flag and dance team. During the year the group performs at home football games during half time, marching band competitions, and parades. This year there were thirteen girls in Color Guard.

"The most rewarding part about Color Guard is when things come together and everyone's having fun," stated Mr. Barnes. Mr. Barnes has been involved with Color Guard for four years, but this was Barnes first year as the director. When asked what the best part about Color Guard was, Daphne Hubbard replied, "Getting to do the overnight trips." This year Daphne, a sophomore at LUHS, was the Color Guard captain.

Color Guard gives you a chance to meet people from other schools while having lots of fun.

"The funnest part about being in Color Guard is wearing a uniform and going to competition, because I like to dance," commented Sachiyo Noguchi, an exchange student from Japan.

Color Guard is a great experience for anyone wanting to or become a flag director or a dancer. It also gives you a great opportunity to see if you would like to pursue it as an adult.

WE'VE GOT SPIRIT...

If you have wondered what it is like to be a leader..... this is the class for you.

Leadership is a great opportunity to learn skills in Leadership, promote school activities and help boost school spirit. This year there was seventy students in Leadership I, and thirty-two in Leadership II.

"The most rewarding part about teaching this class is the great students," stated Mr. Cinquini, who has been teaching this class for three years.

During the year, the Leadership II class planned various activities such as the wellness fair, teacher application and an air band. A senior citizens dance was planned out by the Leadership I class. The students learned what it was like to be a leader and the expectations in being one.

When asked what the best part of Leadership was, Debbie Brookins replied, "When activities that are planned out are followed through."

Every student should take advantage of this class, you learn communication skills and you also get to work with different people on activities.

CAUGHT IN THE ACT

Matt Hudson was caught roaming the halls during 2nd period leadership class. Matt has been active with leadership for four years.

STRAIGHT FROM THE HEART... △△△

Cadet teaching is a two period vocational class for seniors interested in pursuing a career in the teaching field. The twenty cadet teachers work with the kindergarten through eight graders at Lebanon Middle School, Cascade, Queen Anne, and Green Acres Elementary schools.

During the year, the cadet teachers worked at carnivals, corrected papers and tests, tested students on their learning abilities, decorated bulletin boards, and helped the teachers with lunch and recess duty.

When asked what was the most rewarding part of his job, Shawn Garrett responded, "To see the students progress."

The class is graded on attendance, keeping an up-to-date journal, three article summaries that are due at the end of each semester, and also a report on subjects dealing with teaching as a career.

Jennifer Rapoza who works with the first grade students at Cascade school commented, "I really like working with the kids, it's a really great experience."

This class provides great on-the-job first hand experience for the students to get a feel for what teaching is all about.

CHECKING IT OUT

Shawn Garrett checks over the students papers. Shawn taught at Queen Anne.

"WHO"

Ian Gardener asks Mr. Allen if he can read the name off the paper. Ian taught at the Lebanon Middle School.

What is the funnest part about being a Cadet Teacher?

"Being able to teach the kids, and seeing the progress they made each day. I really became attached to them."

Jennifer Rapoza

"The best thing about Cadet Teaching is the influence I have on the kids. They really look up to me with lots of respect. I feel as if each kid is my little brother or sister."

Involving something that the kids were part of, what do you think will be the most memorable part of Cadet Teaching?

"I had alot of fun when I went to their school carnival. It was neat to see them in a social situation. The kids were full of energy and tons of fun to be with."
 Tom Becker

"Working with the Resource-Room students, they are so much fun to be around."

TALKIN' UP THE TOWN...

The last few years at LUHS the Forensics team has been pretty small... that is up 'til this year. There was over 20 students involved in Forensics this year, which resulted in having two classes. Mrs. Strand taught one class as usual, and Mrs. Hamer taught the other.

Due to the large amount of students involved in Forensics this year, our school has had a much greater chance of winning at local competitions, and also at the NFL National Qualifying Tournament. Which they have shown us in past years that our school can do well with only a few amount of students.

Jenny Belcher and Liz Ahearn, two new students involved in Forensics this year both agreed that, "Forensics is definately a blast."

EMOTIONAL

Amy Landis shows some emotion in her speech with the fling of her hands.

PEOPLE ARE PEOPLE...

WHAT A SURPRISE
Lance Dunn up right as the camera clicks. Dunn was a freshman man was a freshman at LUHS.

Over hundred students worked on reading, writing and constructing paragraphs skills in the Learning Center this year. They produced a newspaper during the California earthquake on the computer about how they felt, and what they knew about the earthquake. This provided a chance for the students to learn a little more about current events as well as techniques in writing skills. This also gave them a chance to learn more about working on the computer, and to gain an understanding for how their fellow classmates felt about the topic as well as add their input.

When asked what the most exciting part about the Learning Center was, Lance Dunn, a freshman replied, "Working with the computers and making designs that I am able to create myself."

"The computers were really fun and definitely the best part about the class," agreed Randy Neal.

This year Mrs. Dornhecker has instituted a new program called, "Math In The Mind's Eye." It is a math program using manipulatives to emphasize problem solving and higher order of thinking skills. The students learn how to visualize problems and answers and then proceed in small groups to answer the questions.

"Seeing the students beginning to enjoy math instead of hating it has been the most rewarding experience for me," states Mrs. Dornhecker.

In the Learning Center, Mrs. Fuller teaches a modified diploma class, which focuses on survival skills and independent living.

Mrs. Johnson Commented, "Watching students develop confidence in themselves, whether in their academic skills or in their ability to solve problems, was the most exciting part about the Learning Center this year."

The class was filled with enthusiastic students who cared about one another. They worked hard and got a lot of things done each day. There was definitely improvement throughout the year.

BUT SERIOUSLY

Mrs. Oalfson, who is a Learning Center aid, looks up while correcting papers to give the camera a "Serious" look. This is her first year teaching at LUHS.

"WHAT DO I NEED TO KNOW THIS-FOR?"

What comes to mind when you read that name on your schedule the first day of school, Chemistry, Zoology, Botany, or any other science class that no one would even consider thinking about over the summer. Excitement... no, never. It's more like, "Oh great, here comes a 'F', or if I'm lucky, maybe even a 'D'."

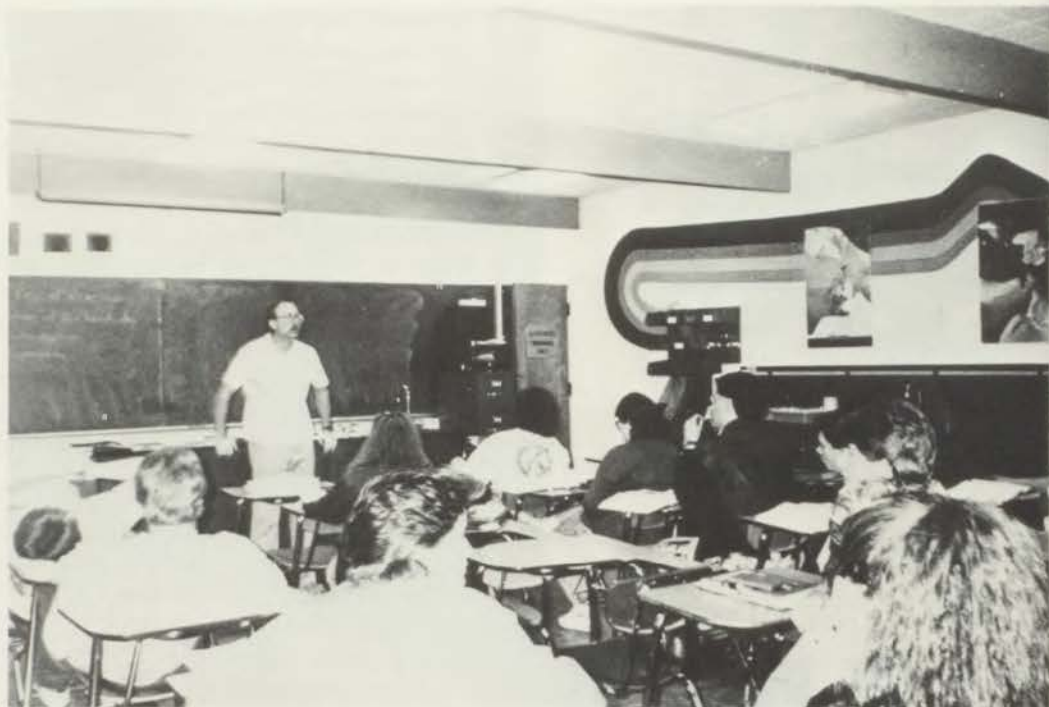

Science is hardly ever a class students fight to have. The fighting is usually trying to get the easiest class possible. But once the year starts, it can actually be kinda fun. For example, in Mrs. Brown's Zoology class, students spent one day at a reptile farm in Canby, learning about the life styles of snakes, lizards, turtles, and even crocodiles.

Jenny Belcher commented about the way the snakes ate, "It was pretty disgusting, but it was interesting too, because it only took the snake about fifteen seconds to kill the mouse, and then it just sat there holding it."

In Mr. Deacon's Anatomy/Physiology class, there's always the yearly dissection of a cat, and in Mr. Allen's Chemistry class, there was the week long labs that no one ever understood.

Mrs. Walton comments, "I guess the reason why I decided to become a science teacher was so I could wear a lab coat, and people would think that I am really smart."

Science may not be one of the most wanted classes to take in high school, but is is definately one of the most important.

TIME OUT

Mr. Allen teaches class as one student takes time out to yawn. students were usually very amused with Mr. Allen's discussions.

SOMETHING FISHY

Mrs. Brown's fish tank was a very popular attraction to the science rooms at LUHS. During the year she had students collect pop cans for the fish, to pay for their food.

LOOKING GOOD

Mr. Dannen looks over students papers after lab projects. Mr. Dannen teaches Advanced Science at LUHS.

EW!

HA! HA!
 Dimitri Clark and Jonathon Mattson laugh to themselves as they try to not acknowledge that their picture is being taken.

GET IN SHAPE

Fitness, what's it all about? At LUHS it's about running, swimming, basketball, baseball, going into the weight room and fun games of volleyball. It's also about learning and understanding what our bodies are all about.

The Health and P.E. programs at LUHS are closely related. In Health the students learn about what's important to live good, long lives. In P.E. the students carry out these tasks by hard work and "lots of running," said freshman, Sarah Cinquini.

One of the most exciting things that happened in Mr. Mundy's junior Health class this year was when Mrs. Wise, Stephanie Watkins' mother, came into their class and took Mr. Mundy's blood to show the class the steps involved while making blood samples. Mrs. Wise is a registered nurse in Lebanon.

Mr. Yates, who has taught P.E. for twenty-eight years at LUHS says, "I enjoy teaching P.E. because I get to see the kids grow each year, not only physically, but also emotionally. It's also exciting to see the kids' reactions when they do something they never thought they could."

Wet hair is always the talk to the school when the freshmen and sophomores start swimming for three weeks in P.E. Every school day during the three weeks, they dress down into swimming suits and goggles and proceed to do such activities as relays, games and the funnest of all...laps! Then after their twenty minutes of swimming, they rush into the dressing rooms to try to get ready and presentable to their classmates in only fifteen minutes, in order to not be late to their next class.

Health and P.E. at LUHS are sometimes thought of as difficult classes, but once they are started, they are actually quite enjoyable.

OLD TIMES

Gary Yates hangs out in the weight room as he talks about the good ol' times with a friend. Yates just completed his twenty-eighth year as a P.E. teacher at LUHS.

DOOMS DAY

Mr. Tomlin's General Math class inspects their papers one more time before handing them in. Good grades are very essential towards the end of each semester.

What would you consider to be the best part of P.E.?

"I think that swimming was the best part of my P.E. class."

Becky Hess

"The best part was getting to have the class with Heidi Major."

Terisa Halik

Sometimes all of us wonder if Calculus will have any purpose in our future. According to Mr. Olafson, "...the theory of life was formulated through Calculus."

When asked what she liked best about Integrated Algebra-Geometry, junior Diane Silva said, "I really like being in Mr. Machamer's class and I had the best time ever, because he's a rad teacher."

"He definitely is the best," agreed junior Wendy Rudolf.

Every year a Regional Skills contest is held at LBCC which the Advanced Placement math students at our school are able to attend. Twenty different schools in our district all attend the contest, and eight teams from each school are able to compete in team and individual competitions. The contest was held on February 24, and lasted all day.

"Our school usually does pretty well at these contests, and I think that we might even place first this year, due to the intelligence many of our students who will be competing," said Mrs. McAllister, when asked before the contest took place.

ONE AND ONLY

Junior, Fred Phillips, the only guy in his Advanced Health class, spaces off while the rest of the class is learning about A.I.D.S. The A.I.D.S. epidemic took over 7,800 lives during the 89-90 school year.

DRILLING IT IN

Mr. Phillips tries to drill the answers for the semester finals into the heads in his freshman health class. As a result, the outcome was a huge success.

"POWER"

WAYS OF LIVING...

Drafting and Electronics were very popular among students at LUHS. Both vocational groups did a great job at the LBCC Regionals and had a great year overall.

This year was Sam Holmes' eighth year as the Electronics teacher at LUHS. He has had past experiences in the electronic industry and was well qualified for this position.

Many other vocational classes had a successful year such as Agriculture, Home Ec, Child Development and Wood Shop.

In Child Development this year there was a large amount of students who were interested in working with the students.

Heidi Shurts, a senior said, "It was so much fun working with the kids because they are so innocent and sweet. I also enjoyed the class because I could tell that it was giving me a great chance to see how many kids I would like to have when I'm older and how I'm going to raise my own children."

PARANOIA

WARRIOR PARANOIA...

Enduring pressure in forms which most students fail to come in contact with until after they leave high school was accomplished by 27 Warrior yearbook staff members during the 1989-90 school year.

The revolutionary happenings of the previous year continued; challenging the entire community to let go of some of the outdated yearbook traditions which were witnessed in the 1960s and '70s.

"The biggest challenge that the Warrior yearbook members took on was their attempt to pull LUHS into the 80's as far as yearbook goes; even though we were going into the '90s," explained adviser Stan Talbott.

Pulling the book into the '80s included: the addition of more copy (stories) for the purpose of making the book an actual "history book" rather than solely a "picture book"; having a consistent background for senior pictures which allowed for the viewing of people rather than trucks, dogs, guns, helmets, and other paraphenilia; the continuing expansion of the use of the Macintosh computers to use advanced graphics and text uses in addition to "in-house" page layout.

The first major form of pressure appeared as the 1989 book arrived a bit later than most of the LUHS students when it hit the school in October. This was a jolt to the systems of many LUHS students since the previous yearbooks were delivered in the spring of the preceding five years.

"When are they going to get here?!!!" echoed throughout the halls and yearbook members constantly had to attempt to explain how 80 percent of the books in the state were delivered in the fall and we weren't "just being weird" at LUHS.

"We suffered through a lot of controversial issues," admitted Co-editor Steve Woods. "All of the changes we attempted to make were, we felt, in the best interests of the school."

Woods, with fellow co-editor, Jill Elliott, and the rest of the Warrior staff attempted to model the yearbook after South Eugene High's: The Axe, which was deemed the best yearbook in America at the National Journalism Education Association convention in April.

"We realized though that with our resources that we're a few years away from reaching the level that South had attained," added Woods. "As soon as the staff can get the wall removed for ample work space, a telephone for advertising and other purposes and additional Macintoshes, then the stage will be set for LUHS to climb into the upper echelon of yearbooking."

Deadline pressure was constant and conquered much better than the previous year. The book was put to bed on June 16.

"A yearbook is a mountain which only a handful of students can take on and conquer each year," added Talbott. "I'm proud of these kids for attempting to please more than 1,200 people; it sure wasn't easy."

GETTING THE FACTS...

Newspaper took a lot of dedication this year. After publishing the ten issues of the school paper, the staff also had to take a lot of slack from the other students at LUHS.

Newspaper and Yearbook are quite a bit alike, but they are also very different. Newspaper puts out ten issues during a year, while yearbook puts out an entire book consisting of 241 pages.

But the key point that draws the fine line between Yearbook and Newspaper is that Yearbook has a whole year to get the book published, but Newspaper only has about one month to get each issue published on time.

Mike Grey, the Newspaper advisor, feels that the LUHS Newspaper staff does a great job, and that this year's issues brought great success to the staff and himself.
